Break-Through Attempt Fails

U.S. Army Fixing Supply Line To Blocked Convoy

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army began assembling a supply line today for 44 men in a 12-vehicle military convoy bottled up by Soviet armored cars at the Marienborn checkpoint into East Germany.

In West Berlin, 15 trucks and water tankers were ready to roll on a 110-miles trip over the autobahn through East German territory to Marienborn. A second U.S. military convoy of 4 trucks, 2 trailers and 56 men stood on the western side of Marionborn, presumably in reserve.

The 44-man convoy was halted Monday morning. It failed in an attempt to break through early this morning when the Russians parked three armored personnel carriers pulled up behind the convoy and boxed it in. Then, as a heavy rain fell, a lone Soviet soldier sat in the open at a heavy machine gun pointing diagonally across the road.

Early this afternoon, a U.S. Army sedan drove through the barriers with supplies for the stranded convoy. The sedan was cheered by a group of West German children visiting the Iron Curtain as part of their school program.

The Americans had a hot breakfast at 6 a.m. and their morale was reported high.

In Bonn, the West German government was brought into a conference of the U.S., British and French ambassadors. Up to now, incidents involving military convoys had been considered matters concerning only the Soviet Union and the three Western Allies. In London, the British government announced its full support of the U.S. action in refusing to give in to Soviet demands for a head-counting of Army men in small convoys.

A West German government statement called the blockade a "serious provocation."

The blockade—the fourth involving Allied convoys in less than a month — caused grave concern in Washington.

Again it centered on the issue of who is to make the rules for Allied military convoy travel on the autobahn. The Russians demanded a head count of U.S. soldiers on the vehicles, and the Americans refused.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk summoned Georgi M. Kornienko, acting Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, Monday and demanded the convoy be released. Informants said Kornienko explained he had no word from his government on the incident.

The U.S. Army's Berlin garrison postponed a training exercise scheduled to start Monday for 24 hours. The Army insisted the troops were not placed on the alert, but Army officials presumably felt it was wiser to keep the men in their barracks in readiness.

U.S. officials in Washington at first minimized the incident but later one high official said it had taken on "serious dimensions."

"Intensive consultations" between the United States, Britain and France were reported. The official said that the longer the blockade lasts, the graver the danger of a serious confrontation becomes.

The convoy was stopped at 8:01 a.m. Monday after the Soviet officer in charge of the checkpoint, a Lt. Col. Spiridinov, demanded that 15 passengers in three of the trucks dismount and be counted.

The convoy commander, Lt. John Lamb of North Augusta, S.C., refused, in accordance with an Allied statement sent to the Russians Oct. 29 regarding procedures Allied convoys will follow when traveling to and from Berlin.

U.S. Fears Growing Over Soviet Blockade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian blockade of a U.S. Army convoy on the road to Berlin is viewed here today with more concern as each hour passes. U.S. officials expressed fear it could grow into a serious confrontation.

Earlier, officials stressed that the incident was not causing too much concern.

Gas Leak Blamed

Father Burned, Family Spared In House Blast

Fire Razes Home After Explosions

Wife, 3 Youngsters And Relative Dazed But Escape Injury

A father of three was burned but his wife and children escaped injury when an explosion of natural gas fumes ripped through their home in California Hollow Monday night, starting a fire that leveled the two-story frame dwelling. A first blast started the fire, and a second fed the flames.

The blast occurred within a short time after a serviceman from the Ohio Valley Gas Co. has visited the home in response to a call that the family detected fumes. The serviceman reportedly told the family he would return today for further investigation and work.

Victim Reported 'Fair'

Richard Moffett, 36, of Dresden Ave. Ext. was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with second and third degree burns of both arms and first degree burns of the face, ears and neck received as he helped his children escape, and then searched vainly for his wife who had already made her way outside.

Dazed but apparently uninjured were his wife, Mrs. Darlene Moffett; Betty Williams, 16, Mrs. Moffett's daughter, and their three sons, Phillip Moffet, who was observing his ninth birthday anniversary; Curt Moffett, 7, and Jess Moffett, 1. A step-son, 17-year-old David Williams, was visiting on St. Clair Ave. when the explosion occurred.

Moffett was in the downstairs livingroom and his wife was in the furnace room while the children were watching television on the second floor when the

U.S. Woman Shares 1963 Nobel Prize

Becomes First Of Sex To Win Physics Prize In 60 Years

STOCKHOLM (AP) — An American scientist today became the first woman to win a Nobel Prize in physics in 60 years. She will share the prize with a second U.S. scientist and a West German.

Winding up the 1963 Nobel awards, a West German scientist and one from Italy were named to share the prize in chemistry.

The Swedish Royal Academy of Science announced these winners of the physics and chemistry prizes, each worth $51,158;

Physics:

Mrs. Maria Goeppert-Mayer of the University of California and J. Hans D. Jensen of Heidelberg for their work in determining the nature of the shell of the atom's nucleus. She is the first woman residing in America to win a Nobel physics prize and the first to be named since Marie Curie of France shared the prize in 1903.

Eugene Wigner of Princeton University, who helped to lay the groundwork for the present advance study of nuclear physics. Wigner will get half the prize. Mrs. Goeppert-Mayer and Jensen will divide the other half.

Chemistry:

Prof. Karl Ziegler of West Germany and Prof. Giulio Natta of Italy for their work with molecules that has helped to speed the development of useful plastics.

The award money comes from a $9-million bequest by the late Alfred Nobel, inventor of dynamite, who directed that the interest on the bequest be distributed among those who benefit mankind.

The formal award ceremony will be held Dec. 12 in Stockholm.

Light Rain Or Drizzle To Last Into Tonight

Election Day dawned with a drizzle and that's the way it may end tonight.

The Ohio weatherman said the occasional light rain today will taper into a drizzle tonight as temperatures continue in the mild range. Wednesday will be cloudy and a little warmer.

The day's high will be 48 to 54 degrees and tonight's low only 44 to 48. The downtown had 46 at 6 a. m.

Ceremony Set At Wellsville Mail Facility

The dedication of Wellsville's new Post Office facility on 11th St. has been set for Dec. 1.

The program at the $110,000 structure will be at 2 p.m. The exact location of the entire ceremony has not been established.

The building, constructed by Better Homes Investment Corp. of Youngstown, is complete. A workman was on the job today finishing the cleaning of the interior.

The primary construction was completed last week.

The government equipment remains to be installed. This includes such items as postal boxes and the screenline, which is part of the counter setup to separate the workroom from the lobby.

About 50 per cent of the equipment at the present Post Office on Main St. will be utilized.

The Wellsville Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the dedication. John Bryer, president, will serve as master of ceremonies. He is president of Acme Craft Ware of Wellsville.

The dedication committee includes Postmaster Elmer Evans, Bryer, Atty. William Bush, chamber secretary, George Rowen and Allen Dalrymple.

The good weather this fall speeded the construction. The building is concrete block with a brick facing over the entire exterior. There is space for loading and unloading at the rear and space for parking a few cars at the side.

Two homes at the site were razed to make way for the new building.

New Chester School Set To Open Nov. 12

Board In Hancock Plans Inspection Of Facility Tonight

Opening of a new $302,600 elementary school in Chester was set Nov. 12 by the Hancock County Board of Education at its meeting Monday night in New Cumberland.

Erected by the Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine as part of a $5 million expansion and modernization program launched last year, the new Chester primary school will house approximately 300 pupils.

Board members plan to inspect the building tonight at 6:30. The school was erected at the former site of the Chester Rolling Mill on property at the rear of the Arner Chester Funeral Chapel.

Supt. Robert H. Hall said the job of moving school furniture into the building will get under way this week.

Eventually, the new building will house all Chester students in Grades 1 through 3, with Grades 4, 5 and 6 attending the former Chester High School, which has been converted into a junior high school.

Supt. Hall said plans call for Grandview School pupils to attend the new building, but added "if they don't choose to attend the new building, they don't have to do it. I would think that's where they will want to go, however."

Chester Washington will definitely be abandoned after Nov.

Rockefeller's Plans Waited On Thursday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is expected to formally declare Thursday that he is a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Informed sources say only an unforeseen development could force him to postpone the announcement. But in case of postponement, an alternate date —probably Nov. 12 — is being kept open.

Rockefeller's long - expected announcement will be made in Albany.

Rockefeller backers in New Hampshire announced Monday they would open a Rockefeller-for-president headquarters in Concord, the state's capital, Friday. New Hampshire will hold the first of 1964's presidential preference primaries March 10. Rockefeller is expected to enter it.

Well - posted sources said Thursday was chosen for the formal announcement of candidacy in the hope it would win prominence in newspapers and broadcasts.

1964 Trends Loom Today In Elections

Contests To Watch Are Philadelphia, 2 Governor Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hour of decision arrived today in scattered elections across the country which may give tipoffs —however uncertain — on 1964 trends.

Contests to watch were the Philadelphia mayoralty fight and governorship tussles in Kentucky and Mississippi.

In addition, hundreds of mayors and other officials were being selected, plus members of state legislatures in Kentucky, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia.

In Philadelphia, Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate faced a tough challenge from a Republican opponent, James T. McDermott. Democratic campaign worker's sought to tie Tate's fortunes to those of President Kennedy.

Democratic sound trucks touring the city proclaimed that a Democratic vote was a boost for Kennedy for a second term —"The Democratic lever on the voting machines is the Kennedy lever," they said.

Racial unrest in the big "City of Brotherly Love" was intertwined with the campaign, though both candidates proclaimed themselves liberals on civil rights.

In Kentucky there were many issues, including which gubernatorial candidate could best promote prosperity — Democrat Edward T. Breathitt Jr., or Republican Louie B. Nunn. Breathitt was favored to win—in a state where Democrats have held the governorship for

Drops 25 Per Cent

Forenoon Voting Reduced By Rain

Showing the lightest forenoon turnout in at least 12 years, East Liverpool voters cast only 1,364 ballots in the first four hours after the polls opened today — a drop of 25 per cent from the 1,824 shown at the same time in the last municipal election in 1961.

But if the balloting continues at the same pace until the polls close at 6:30 tonight, the total vote will hit very close to the pre - election forecast of 5,000. Columbiana County is expected to cast about 30,000 ballots today in the off - year election of city, village, township and school district offices.

AN INTERMITTENT drizzle of rain and overcast skies were blamed for the comparatively light turnout this morning.

A sampling of seven city precincts showed 303 votes cast at 10:30 a. m. At the same time two years ago, seven comparable precincts had cast 403 votes.

But the lighter vote helps bear out predictions of a smaller total turnout. In the municipal city's total vote was 6,620. The total vote in the county was 30,223.

East Liverpool is electing 12 municipal officers — from mayor through ward councilmen — and deciding the fate of the city income tax issue. It also is electing Board of Education members and voting on three countywide proposals and one statewide issue.

—:—

TODAY'S forenoon vote had a spotty trend that made it difficult for observers to detect a groundswell. Generally speaking, the precincts recorded forenoon votes under their totals of two years ago at the same time.

The single major exception is Precinct B of the First Ward, which votes at a St. George St. residence.

The 1-B polling place recorded 61 votes this morning, against 54 at the same time in 1961.

Since East End is on record as a Democratic stronghold and a center of opposition to the income tax, it could indicate that the First Ward will throw heavy support behind Council-

Voting Check Slated Today In Jefferson

2.6 Million Due To Vote In Ohio; Eye $250 Million Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown dispatched observers to possible trouble spots in today's election.

Requests for a check on voting came from the counties of Cuyahoga, Jefferson and Adams.

Lawrence County asked for a check on the larger number of absent voter ballots cast, and Brown said he would look into the situation after the election.

The secretary of state said all indications point to light voting over the state despite special interest in some contests for municipal, township and school board posts.

He expected a turnout of some 2.6 million voters, about the same as in the previous odd-year election two years ago.

The only statewide voting was on Issue No. 1—a proposed $250 million bond issue for education, conservation, research and development facilities.

About 1,500 local bond issues, tax levies and questions also were up for decision.

The big bond issue proposal marked the 89th time Ohioans have been asked to consider amendments to the state constitution in the last 50 years, Brown said.

Brown assigned three field men to the Cleveland area with orders to pay particular attention to voting in that city's 17th and 26th wards and in suburban Seven Hills. They were Donald Kendziore, Thomas Crisafi and George Braden.

Josephine Walker, opposing Charles V. Carr for City Council in the 17th, said she had received threats during the campaign.

Observers also were assigned to Jefferson and Adams counties. Nelson Risher went to Jefferson County at the request of the Election Board and Robert

Sought Asylum In U.S. Consulate

Brother Of Diem Turned Over To New Viet Power

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Ngo Dinh Can, boss of central Viet Nam in the regime of his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, was turned over to South Viet Nam's new revolutionary government today after he sought asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Diem and another brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, his closest adviser, were captured by the rebels Saturday. The revolutionary government said they committed suicide, but reports have been widespread in Saigon that they were assassinated.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mansion there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of filthy dungeons were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs on Monday sacked and destroyed the home Can was building there.

Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

Can, who dropped from sight when the coup overthrew Diem's regime last weekend, reportedly went to the U.S. consulate in Hue Monday night and asked for refuge. Consular officials notified the revolutionary government.

Heartened By Sympathetic Notes

Madame Nhu May Return To U.S. After Rome Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An aide says Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, heartened by a number of sympathetic messages from Americans, is considering returning to the United States after a reunion with her three younger children in Rome.

Mrs. Nhu, originally scheduled to leave today for Rome, postponed her trip 24 hours in order to receive telephonic assurances that her children are in Rome before she leaves the United States.

More than 3,000 telegrams and messages have poured into Mrs. Nhu's hotel suite since the military coup Friday which overthrew the regime of her brothar-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem, the aide said.

Most of the messages were sympathetic, he added.

Col. William K. Eliscu of New York City, a former Secret Service officer who has accompanied Mrs. Nhu on her U.S. tour, said many of the messages mentioned her personal loss while others supported her anti-Communist stand.

Mrs. Nhu's husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, Diem's political adviser, was killed in the coup—or committed suicide—along with his brother.

Mrs. Nhu had feared her three younger children, ages 15, 11, and 4 had been killed in the bombardment of the presidential palace.

But the new Vietnamese government, through the U.S. State Department, informed Mrs. Nhu her children were safe.

Drops 25 Per Cent

Forenoon Voting Reduced By Rain

Showing the lightest forenoon turnout in at least 12 years, East Liverpool voters cast only 1,364 ballots in the first four hours after the polls opened today — a drop of 25 per cent from the 1,824 shown at the same time in the last municipal election in 1961.

But if the balloting continues at the same pace until the polls close at 6:30 tonight, the total vote will hit very close to the pre - election forecast of 5,000. Columbiana County is expected to cast about 30,000 ballots today in the off - year election of city, village, township and school district offices.

AN INTERMITTENT drizzle of rain and overcast skies were blamed for the comparatively light turnout this morning.

A sampling of seven city precincts showed 303 votes cast at 10:30 a. m. At the same time two years ago, seven comparable precincts had cast 403 votes.

But the lighter vote helps bear out predictions of a smaller total turnout. In the municipal city's total vote was 6,620. The total vote in the county was 30,223.

East Liverpool is electing 12 municipal officers — from mayor through ward councilmen — and deciding the fate of the city income tax issue. It also is electing Board of Education members and voting on three countywide proposals and one statewide issue.

—:—

TODAY'S forenoon vote had a spotty trend that made it difficult for observers to detect a groundswell. Generally speaking, the precincts recorded forenoon votes under their totals of two years ago at the same time.

The single major exception is Precinct B of the First Ward, which votes at a St. George St. residence.

The 1-B polling place recorded 61 votes this morning, against 54 at the same time in 1961.

Since East End is on record as a Democratic stronghold and a center of opposition to the income tax, it could indicate that the First Ward will throw heavy support behind Council-

Voting Check Slated Today In Jefferson

2.6 Million Due To Vote In Ohio; Eye $250 Million Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown dispatched observers to possible trouble spots in today's election.

Requests for a check on voting came from the counties of Cuyahoga, Jefferson and Adams.

Lawrence County asked for a check on the larger number of absent voter ballots cast, and Brown said he would look into the situation after the election.

The secretary of state said all indications point to light voting over the state despite special interest in some contests for municipal, township and school board posts.

He expected a turnout of some 2.6 million voters, about the same as in the previous odd-year election two years ago.

The only statewide voting was on Issue No. 1—a proposed $250 million bond issue for education, conservation, research and development facilities.

About 1,500 local bond issues, tax levies and questions also were up for decision.

The big bond issue proposal marked the 89th time Ohioans have been asked to consider amendments to the state constitution in the last 50 years, Brown said.

Brown assigned three field men to the Cleveland area with orders to pay particular attention to voting in that city's 17th and 26th wards and in suburban Seven Hills. They were Donald Kendziore, Thomas Crisafi and George Braden.

Josephine Walker, opposing Charles V. Carr for City Council in the 17th, said she had received threats during the campaign.

Observers also were assigned to Jefferson and Adams counties. Nelson Risher went to Jefferson County at the request of the Election Board and Robert

Sought Asylum In U.S. Consulate

Brother Of Diem Turned Over To New Viet Power

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Ngo Dinh Can, boss of central Viet Nam in the regime of his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, was turned over to South Viet Nam's new revolutionary government today after he sought asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Diem and another brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, his closest adviser, were captured by the rebels Saturday. The revolutionary government said they committed suicide, but reports have been widespread in Saigon that they were assassinated.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mansion there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of filthy dungeons were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs on Monday sacked and destroyed the home Can was building there.

Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

Can, who dropped from sight when the coup overthrew Diem's regime last weekend, reportedly went to the U.S. consulate in Hue Monday night and asked for refuge. Consular officials notified the revolutionary government.

Heartened By Sympathetic Notes

Madame Nhu May Return To U.S. After Rome Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An aide says Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, heartened by a number of sympathetic messages from Americans, is considering returning to the United States after a reunion with her three younger children in Rome.

Mrs. Nhu, originally scheduled to leave today for Rome, postponed her trip 24 hours in order to receive telephonic assurances that her children are in Rome before she leaves the United States.

More than 3,000 telegrams and messages have poured into Mrs. Nhu's hotel suite since the military coup Friday which overthrew the regime of her brothar-in-law, Ngo Dinh Diem, the aide said.

Most of the messages were sympathetic, he added.

Col. William K. Eliscu of New York City, a former Secret Service officer who has accompanied Mrs. Nhu on her U.S. tour, said many of the messages mentioned her personal loss while others supported her anti-Communist stand.

Mrs. Nhu's husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, Diem's political adviser, was killed in the coup—or committed suicide—along with his brother.

Mrs. Nhu had feared her three younger children, ages 15, 11, and 4 had been killed in the bombardment of the presidential palace.

But the new Vietnamese government, through the U.S. State Department, informed Mrs. Nhu her children were safe.

13 To Share Overtime

School Custodial Staff To Get $668

The Board of Education agreed unanimously Monday night to pay custodians $668.81 for overtime work performed last December and January during the extreme cold, but again declined to consider how it will apply a state law providing a 40-hour week for employes pending an opinion from City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

Supt. Paul H. Blair said 13 custodians will share in the amount for approximately 300 hours' extra work. They will be paid at the regular rate of $2 for the first hour and $1.85 for each additional hour, the superintendent said.

BLAIR RECOMMENDED the payment after meeting with the finance committee of C. Walter Ashbaugh and Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop to review the hours.

"Some of the custodians have been unhappy they haven't been paid," the superintendent said, but lauded the group for "a remarkable job." The custodians, some of whom virtually lived in the buildings, worked overtime to see that the schools were properly heated for classes and to keep pipes from freezing in the severe cold spell.

Another discussion was held with a spokesman for custodians about the new state law which went into effect Sept. 16 establishing a 40-hour week for all non-teaching employes.

The discussion has been brought up several times but the board has said in the past and reiterated last night that it will not act until it can find out how the law applies to East Liverpool custodians.

ASHBAUGH told Harold West, spokesman for the custodians, "We are dutybound to follow the law when we find out what the law is." Other members expressed similar sentiments.

West brought up the discussion when he said he and Blair had received letters from Steve Lewis, executive secretary of the Ohio Association of Public School Employes, asking that a meeting be arranged with the superintendent and school board. However, West said he was told by the superintendent that an opinion still is awaited from the solicitor.

Blair commented later the letter was not addressed to him but was a carbon of a letter sent to West.

"This is going to run into considerable money since it will be retroactive to Sept. 16. Assuming it will have to be paid, unless this is settled quickly it will amount to a good bit of money or compensatory time off," West said. "I don't understand the reluctance of the board to act," he added.

THE CUSTODIANS' spokesman recalled the custodians and late Supt. Ralph W. Betts also were working on a set of work rules for custodians at the time of Mr. Betts' death.

West said Blair agreed to continue the job of establishing policies but said nothing has been done. "We don't know what's going on, but we would like to know," he added.

James Moss, vice president who was presiding at the time, told West the custodians have been assured they will receive any money due or compensatory time off if that's what the law provides.

West suggested when the solicitor's opinion is received that a special meeting be arranged so the problem can be discussed thoroughly rather than as part of the regular meeting. He declared the custodians feel the board has "grudgingly given time."

—:—

HOWEVER, MRS. Dunlop and Moss both objected to the use of the term "grudgingly," declaring the board is not trying to cut short discussions on any subject.

However, West pointed out the law has been in effect nearly two months and the custodians have had only one meeting with the superintendent.

"This is public money. We have said that it will be retroactive, but we can't rush into this without knowing what the law is," Mrs. Dunlop replied.

"Jimmy (referring to Moss), I believe you are acting like a lame duck," West declared, but Moss denied the accusation. (The terms of Moss, James Lowe, president, and Ashbaugh expire on Jan. 1. They are not seeking re - election.)

When West and Ralph Seevers, another custodian who also has been attending the meetings, departed, the board continued the discussion for several minutes.

LOWE COMMENTED he was "angry inside" at some of the assertions but decided to say nothing. "I believe all the arguing should be between the superintendent and the custodians. That's what he (Blair) is being paid for."

The president indicated he was opposed to making any payments or time off retroactive, but was informed by the other three members the custodians already have been assured that it will date back to the effective date of the law.

"This is liable to develop into one of the worst fights we've seen," Lowe continued, pointing out a precedent has been established because custodians for years have worked 44 hours a week for so much money. "If it's made retroactive, I can see them wanting to go back several years."

Refuting the "lame duck" charge, Moss said if the data were available he would make a decision even if it was the last meeting he was to attend.

MRS. DUNLOP said she was upset by the threat of a court suit, which, she said, was made at the first meeting the board held with the custodial representatives.

Asked to comment, Blair said one of the handicaps is because no hourly rate ever has been established. The board would be better off with an hourly rate rather than a monthly wage, he continued.

I have no personal feelings toward any custodian, but I am responsible to this board," Blair said. "The happiest thing would be to say we would go along with the 40-hour week and pay the regular rate, but I couldn't justify that to this board."

Discussing the written policies for school operations, the superintendent said the custodians are not the only group for which policies subject to board approval are being prepared. Similar rules are being prepared for teachers, principals, cafeteria workers and other groups, he said.

"I can't and won't do this without serious thought. I'm appreciative that the other groups are not as pressing," he concluded, ending the discussion.

Chester

12, and Chester Central will be abandoned when high school pupils move to the new Oak Glen High School in Pughtown.

Oak Glen and Weir High School, also new buildings constructed in the expansion plan, will no doubt receive their first students by the end of the year, Supt. Hall estimated. The contractors are rushing to complete work as early as possible, he added.

In other action, the board hired two instructors, increased its insurance on the fleet of school buses, and approved requests for pupil and teacher activities.

John Banco of Wheeling, English and speech, and Robert Lewis of Follansbee, art, were hired as new teachers.

The board increased its school bus insurance to $50,000, $100,000 and $1 million, or double the old coverage. The additional cost is $329.14.

Approval was granted for the Oak Glen High School Band to participate in a Veteran's Day parade in New Cumberland next Monday, East Liverpool's Christmas parade Nov. 29, and Steubenville's Christmas parade Dec. 7.

Supt. Hall said Principal Crawford H. Cameron of Weir High School has been named assistant chairman of a committee that selects schools to be accredited and advised by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He will attend the national meeting in Chicago April 6-10.

Oak Glen High will probably be accredited in the North Central Association when it opens, Supt. Hall said. High Schools formerly operated in Chester, Newell and New Cumberland did not meet the association's requirements for membership. Graduates of accredited schools have a much better standing when applying for college than non - member schools, Supt. Hall explained.

Started In Kitchen

Moffett indicated to relatives that he believed the first blast occurred in the kitchen.

Mrs. Moffett was uncertain how she escaped, relatives said. She attempted to re-enter the home but was blocked because of debris blown across the front door.

Relatives said Moffett raced upstairs to help his children get outside but the concussion had caved in an outside stairway. The children went onto a slanting roof and then jumped a short distance to the ground.

The father then returned downstairs to hunt for his wife and finally made his way outside the home, even allowing his car to drift out of the road of firemen.

Autoist Sees Blast

Norman Mattern, an assistant machinist at The Review, was one of the first to arrive at the home.

Mattern and his wife and children were halted on Routes 7-30, preparing to turn onto the Westfield Rd. when the blast occurred, ripping off one end of the home, strewing glass across the highway from the front windows and starting a small fire.

Mattern said he started to aid the children as another unidentified man arrived.

The fire appeared to be very small at first, Mattern said, but they were unable to locate a garden hose to extinguish it.

Mattern said the other man was trying to shut off the gas at the meter and he had turned to aid Mrs. Moffett when the second blast ripped the home.

Almost Knocked Down

"That really started the fire," Mattern said, explaining those nearby were almost knocked to the ground by the concussion.

Mattern said the odor of gas fumes was "terrific," explaining those outside were afraid to go nearer the blazing home to save any articles for fear of additional explosions.

Before Miss Williams left the house, the former York home, she managed to call the Glenmoor fire department. Glenmoor firemen said she was almost hysterical and the telephone operator cut in to relay information on the location.

Firemen said they still are puzzled how she managed to make the call about 7 p.m.

Kenneth Mills of the Glenmoor fire department, returning from Calcutta, saw the truck starting down old Routes 7 and 30 and pulled in behind the pumper.

—:—

"THE FIRE had started to break through the roof when we arrived. The interior already was a ball of fire," Mills said.

He also noted the odor of gas was "awfully strong".

Mills said there were four small explosions "almost like a chain reaction" after firemen arrived, but said he was not certain of the cause.

Additional equipment from Calcutta, Liverpool Township West and East departments also were walled but Mills said firemen were unable to save the home.

Firemen were hampered because the leaking gas continued to feed the flames, the Glenmoor fireman said.

The volunteer firemen concentrated on saving a small cottage on the hillside at the rear of the home where Mrs. Flora McCormick, an elderly woman, was evacuated.

TREES ON THE steep hillside at the rear of the home caught fire and the flames spread through the woods as firemen fought to control them. Two lines had to be laid up over the hillside to quell the woods blaze, firemen said.

The four volunteer fire departments had virtually all of their equipment at the scene, including tank trucks to supply water. East Liverpool firemen were called at 7:50 p.m. and took the new Seagraves pumper to provide an additional water supply.

The children first detected the odor of gas when they arrived home from school and immediately told their mother, who called the gas company.

Gas Line Excavation

Firemen said a utility crew had to excavate a big main late last night and reportedly plugged a hole before the flames subsided.

The family is staying with Mrs. Moffett's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powell, of Westfield.

Glenmoor firemen said they are accepting donations of clothing and furniture for the stricken family which lost all of their possessions except the attire they were wearing.

Firemen said clothing may be left at the fire station, but asked anyone donating furniture to call Chief Harry Reckner at 385-1943 or Mills at 385-4891 and the articles will be picked up.

Best Reason For Annual Session

Ohio's "little Hoover commission" is latest to put in a good word for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Whenever this reform is proposed, the same thoughts follow in the natural course of events. The standard thoughts are are these:

1. That a legislative body which met every year would be superior to one that met every other year. It would be twice as good because it would meet twice as often — that line of reasoning.

2. That legislators would be closer to current events in such areas as taxes and finance and therefore would be able to do a better job.

3. That more legislation could be considered at leisure instead of in haste and this would pull the rug from under lobbyists who traditionally wait until representatives and senators are tired and confused to give them the coup de grace.

4. That a more methodical procedure, such as meeting annually, would lend dignity to the Ohio General Assembly.

5. That a biennial schedule amounts to six months' work in every 24 months for legislators serving two-year terms and people are entitled to more work for the money.

IT IS DOUBTFUL if these are valid arguments for annual sessions of the Legislature. It is doubtful if annual sessions would get rid of stalling, confusion, pressure, last - minute haste, lack of dignity, or the tendency of some legislators to slide through life with a minimum of effort.

There is one thing, however, that annual sessions almost certainly would do. They would make the state budget easier to understand and control. And in the same line of improvement, they would make the state's other problems easier to keep track of.

As it is, Ohioans become Legislature-conscious every other year. In between, they don't think about it. They aren't even aware that top lawmakers are busy the year-around with state affairs. Once the Legislature is out of sight it is out of mind until the next regular session.

THIS STOP-AND-GO consciousness of state lawmaking leaves everything to be desired.

It leaves all the image-making and nearly all the talking to the executive branch of the state government.

Aside from budget - making, public awareness of lawmaking is the best argument for annual sessions of the Ohio Legislature.

As it is, no one needs to be afraid of legislative reaction in off-years — and by the time the Legislature has convened again the hot issues may have cooled off.

Let's See The Lady Home

Certainly the least and last thing the United States can do officially for Vietnamese lives lost and shattered by international pressure in the counter-war against Asiatic communism is to help Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu return home safely.

This government even might find the grace to tell her it regrets the grief caused by the political murder of her husband and his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem. Her husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, was head of the secret police in South Viet Nam.

As for the rest of us — loyal citizens of the United States and long-suffering taxpayers — we are mulling over in our minds the uprising that destroyed President Diem's administration and caused him and his brother to lose their lives. We are not sure we like the idea that the uprising was sought by the United States and that joy was reported in official circles in Washington when news came that the government had been overthrown. We thought interference in other governments was for the Kremlin.

THIS IS the way our government used to do things when Latin America's banana republics were out of step; it used to seek the overthrow of other governments.

But that was supposed to have ended long ago. A good-neighbor policy was supposed to have supplanted international interference, which was left to authoritarian governments.

It was not so much that the immorality of meddling in other governments dawned on the United States but that the practice built resentment among people who wanted to manage their own affairs. It seemed more practical to win their confidence by keeping hands off — by living and letting live.

All this, of course, does not reckon with the cold war against the Communists. A billion dollars later and at the rate of a million dollars a day, the United States learned that the Ngos were corrupt and unpopular in South Viet Nam. It reversed its policy for keeping them in power at any cost. It wanted them out of power at any cost. It has had its wish fulfilled, apparently due to its own assistance.

IT IS INCIDENTAL that Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu was in this country when the end came. Her husband now is dead, her brother-in-law's government shattered, her own position as official first lady gone, her children in danger and her country likely to be in chaos if things go according to the usual pattern after strong governments have been overthrown.

The least we can do is make sure the lady gets home safely.

She is playing her politics in a rough league — rougher than she may have realized when she left South Viet Nam some weeks ago.

It Would Need A Lot Of Help

The story that Ohio's attractive astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. is being sounded out for a Senate race next year to beef up the Democratic party's chances of carrying Ohio keeps percolating in Washington's political coffee pot.

It is a certainty that Col. Glenn would be a strong candidate against anyone else in sight, whether in the Democratic party or the November showdown.

It is a fair guess that no Republican would relish the prospect of making a race against him. But it is not clear how this would help the Democratic party corner Ohio's electoral votes.

The Nixon-Lodge ticket carried all but nine Ohio counties in 1960. Ohioans gave the Republican candidates a 273,363 majority. Despite the best efforts of Democratic and organized labor campaign workers, the only counties carried by the Kennedy - Johnson ticket were those in which special circumstances favored the Democratic ticket. In only one of these counties, Cuyahoga, were the circumstances special enough to amass a large pro-Democrat vote — and it wasn't large enough, only 429,030 to 288,056.

This would be a heavy handicap for a popular hero who is not even identified as a Democrat to date and who says when asked about it that he is an independent. Col. Glenn might win a popularity contest hands down, but could he help the party that lost Ohio in 1960? Seems doubtful. It would need a lot of help in 79 or more of its 88 counties.

When Winter Comes

By Truman Twill

Snow was falling the other morning I buzzed past my favorite service station—one of those gusty early November blizzards that warn of worse to come.

My favorite filling station properietor was at work. He waved and grinned. He knew that I knew how he felt about winter. We are as one.

Our worst peeve is autos, which are not designed to work well in snow and, in the hands of many drivers, should not be expected to work at all.

Next worst is our peeve against cold. To us, winter is the season when everything is stuck, broken, or covered with something unpleasant that has frozen to a crust — mustaches, moving parts in machinery, roads, you name it.

WE HAVE SHARED thoughts on these and other aspects of winter, my filling station proprietor and I. No one can get within 100 feet of us from November to May without learning what we think.

I can remember snow-clogged mornings when he and I have cursed in unison for minutes while he was gassing up my coffee grinder. I have seen him grapple with stiffened tires wrenched away from rims by the death grip of an ice rut, his jaw set and his eyes sullen as he brooded about the cruel punishment of a climate unfit for man or beast.

He fights winter. I endure it. I have heard his sardonic laughter rise above the roar of the storm because snow was filtering down his neck and his eyelids were freezing shut. Me, I do not laugh sardonically. I moan.

It's coming again. Winter.

Monumental drifts will pile up head-high in the lane.

Icy roads will spin cars out of control and their drivers into the hereafter.

Temperatures will freeze a man's eyeballs into their sockets and turn his ears into crisp Danish pastries.

Winds will pluck breath out of human nostrils.

FROZEN, broken water pipes . . .

Plans awry because cars won't start and roads will be closed . . .

Emergencies twice as bad because of cold - weather complications . . .

Luckless passengers frozen to death in cars, buses and trucks. Birds and animals starved to death in blizzards.

Disrupted communications when wires go down and poles are snapped off by skidding vehicles.

Soaring bills for heat.

Frost-damaged roads.

Wet feet. Head colds. Frost-bitten toes. Broken legs. Spouting wrenched loose by ice. Leaking roofs when thaws come. Wet gloves, wrinckled clothing, steamed-over glasses.

Jingle bells, all. Oh joy.

Jet propulsion is employed by the squid of the ocean. It sucks and expels water as a means of moving about.

More Cloak Than Dagger

Goldwater Hits At The Administration

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

It was a good - humored Barry Goldwater who came to this labor town the other night and "worked out," as the prizefighters say, at the Rockefeller Center Hilton Hotel. He jibed and jabbed at the Kennedy administration — and included a gentle sideswipe at Arthur Goldberg though not by name — as he challenged the Kennedys' right to claim labor's support.

Victor Riesel

The Arizona traveler, though speaking at a banquet given by the investment magazine, Financial World, concentrated on what he claimed were the wrongs done the workingman by the New Frontier.

He did not pander, nor did he woo, though he spoke in the heart of a city where the Central Labor Council has one million members. It was here he decided to take the fight to Jack Kennedy on the very front where the Kennedys feel strongest.

The senator's strategy was simple and direct — he charged that labor had no reason to back the President.

Goldwater asserted the workingman had been "shortchanged by the economic policies" of the White House.

HE HIT HARD with an assertion that the administration had pushed labor as well as management around.

"Collective bargaining," said the senator, "has given way to kind of de facto compulsory arbitration — again, without a law, without consent, without consensus.

"In shipping, in rails, and, yes, even in the affairs of the Metropolitan Opera, short-term and shortsighted intervention have replaced collective bargaining and have darkened the climate for good collective bargaining or good, long-run labor-management relations.

"The working man and the businessman are caught alike in this crisis of confidence."

Then Goldwater charged bluntly that it was the New Frontier itself which was not creating the number of jobs needed to absorb the increasing population. This, he said, was caused by a sluggish economy resulting from administration policies.

"In this fourth year of promises," the senator said, "the number of unemployed is 10 per cent higher than at the time of the incomplete recovery in 1960."

"What confidence can those men and women have in economic theories vested in depression and dependent upon doles?

"WHAT CONFIDENCE can those men and women have in the face of the new demands that new technology places on all job seekers, when they view a tax structure so antiquated that it permits deduction for training in present jobs or even obsolete jobs but penalizes those who would train themselves for better jobs?

"How ironic that we will spent billions to advance the technologies of space flight, while inhibiting the advance of earthly skills!

"How tragic that we will attempt to teach youngsters to fell trees and rake leaves in an age of automation. How tragic that we will seek status quo in our skills, while our science races to the stars."

Then he charged the government leaders with attempting to regiment industry and the nation.

"Where are the jobs, the challenges to our skills? Millions of new jobs are, simply and sadly, lost in the limbo of investments not made, risks not taken, enterprise not dared — because of the lack of confidence that becomes a reflex as an economy is regimented and regulated."

Not once did the senator let up. He threw back at the Kennedy administration the very same figures and charges which the White House and such men as Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz and economic braintruster Walter Heller (who is now believed about to resign) have been heaving at the Republicans in general and Goldwater in particular.

THE SENATOR said the "high rate of unemployment has shown no real improvement for a year — holding at about four million." Then he asked why the jobless are not back at work, why some 1.5 million of them find it is now futile to look for jobs. He asserted there are at least six million Americans who would like to have jobs, "if jobs could be found."

"With the vitality sapped from the creation of jobs," he said, "through a federal philosophy that knows only the solutions of the depression . . . and will not admit that a new day needs new enterprise — with work lagging behind those willing to work, it's estimated that perhaps as many as 1½ million persons simply have stopped trying to get jobs."

Then he quit jabbing and hit hard with his right.

"However profusely certain hearts may bleed for the working man," said the senator, "the fact is that it's the working man who has been shortchanged by the economic policies that give us this sluggish economic performance."

There was more to the senator's talk. But the rest is for the financial department.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — August Storck, Democrat, was elected Third Ward councilman in Wellsville, the youngest man ever to be named to the lawmaking body there.

Miss Margaret Wilson was named president of the newly-organized Commercial Club at Wells High School, Newell.

Daniel T. Daugherty, Republican, was re-elected burgess of the borough of Midland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — James Locke Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Locke of Sprucevale Rd., was promoted to sergeant at Bergstrom Field, Austin, Tex.

The Rev. C. Alex Jones of Baraboo, Wis., was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church here, succeeding the Rev. E. E. Sowards.

TEN YEARS AGO — Ruth Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cain of Hookstown R. D. 1, was awarded third place in the Pennsylvania 4-H vegetable project class.

Richard Weston resigned as a city fireman and was succeeded by John W. Taylor, 304 Washington St.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is a letter directed to a group of high - school age men who drive a 1950-1954 green car.

Halloween night these men, driving in the Oakmont area, followed in their car three young boys. They finally stopped, got out and took the sack of candy collected by one of the boys that also held his jacket and flashlight.

Twice later they came back. The last time they chased the three boys, again frightening them badly.

I understand the same thing happened quite a few places this year.

These men should feel nothing but shame and should very quickly take a long look at themselves.

The Big Difference

By David Lawrence

Reason Urged In 'Rights' Fight

There's a big difference between what corporation executives can readily do as individuals to promote good race relations in a community and what they hesitate to do by way of "economic pressure" in acting and speaking for their company in its dealings with other businesses and the buying public.

David Lawrence

This difference—which is of transcendent importance to every corporation and business firm in the country—wasn't made clear at President Kennedy's press conference last Thursday. Nor was it set forth clearly in the newspaper reports which the President may have previously read about the news conference which Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp., held last Tuesday in New York City.

It would be far better if questions like these were submitted in writing and the answers prepared in advance for further inquiry and comment in impromptu manner at the White House press conference.

As a consequence of the present practice, the public has often been misled. The U.S. Steel Corp., for instance, actually employes, in its Birmingham, Fla., division, Negroes numbering more than 30 per cent of its labor force there. Also, Arthur Wiebel, the top executive of the company in Birmingham, has participated actively—as an individual—in the work of a bi-racial commission in the city for several years and recommended as far back as 1951 that Negroes be employed in the police force.

He has spent many a day outside his office working with bi-racial commissions and was himself a trustee from 1953 to 1961 at Tuskegee University, a Negro college in Alabama of national prominence.

HERE IS the verbatim record of what Mr. Blough said at his news conference Oct. 29:

"Mr. Wiebel has been very helpful in the community and has tried to carry out our overall U.S. Steel policy of being a good citizen in the community in which we live. Now, the criticism that U.S. Steel hasn't used what some people refer to as economic influence—which I presume to mean some kind of economic force to bring about some kind of change—is, I think, an improper matter on which to criticize Mr. Wiebel or U.S. Steel.

"I think I would have to take considerable time to fully explain this point, but very briefly I'd like to say this: I do not either believe it would be a wise thing for U.S. Steel to be other than a good citizen in the community, or to attempt to have its ideas of what is right for that community enforced upon that community by some sort of economic means.

"This is repugnant to me personally, and, I'm sure, it's repugnant to my fellow officers in U.S. Steel. I doubt very much that this, in principle, is a good thing for any corporation to follow. When we as individuals are citizens in a community, we can exercise what small influence we may have as citizens but for a corporation to attempt to exert any kind of economic compulsion to achieve a particular end in the social area seems to me to be quite beyond what a corporation should do, and I would say also quite beyond what a corporation can do."

Q. "Do you think that you have done all that you should do or can do? And you reject the citicism, do you not?"

MR. BLOUGH: "I would put it this way: That we have fulfilled our responsibility in the Birmingham area—whatever responsibility we have as a corporation or as individuals working with a corporation, because, after all, a corporation is nothing but individuals."

Then came President Kennedy's news conference on Oct. 31:

Q. "The United States Steel Corp. has rejected the idea that it should use economic pressure in an effort to improve race relations in Birmingham, Ala. Do you have any comment on that position, and do you have any counsel for management and labor in general as to their social responsibility in the areas of tension of this kind?

The President: "Actually, Mr. Blough has been somewhat helpful in one or two cases that I can think of in Birmingham. I don't think he should narrowly interpret his responsibility for the future. That is a very influential company in Birmingham, and he wants to see that city prosper, as do we all. Obviously, the federal government cannot solve this matter. So that business has a responsibility—labor and, of course, every citizen. So I would think that particularly a company which is as influential as United States Steel in Birmingham, I would hope would use its influence on the side of comity between the races.

"Otherwise, the future of Birmingham, of course, is not as happy as we hope it would be. In other words, it can't be decided—this matter—in Washington. It has to be decided by citizens everywhere. Blough is an influential citizen. I'm sure he will do the best he can."

THERE ISN'T a word in that reply with which Mr. Blough would probably disagree, because the President has obviously talking about the "influence" of the company officers as individuals, while the newsman who asked the question at the same press conference was inquiring about "economic pressure."

It was the latter concept which the head of the steel corporation had "rejected" at his own news conference.

There's a big difference between what businessmen say as individuals in discussions in community meetings and what they are being asked to do by some persons—namely, to sell to or buy from only the companies which conform to one viewpoint on "civil rights."

To some readers it might appear that President Kennedy feels that the influence of individual businessmen properly exerted is not enough, and that economic pressure is a responsibility of all corporations and businesses and firms.

A clarification by the White House could be helpful in these days when, to diminish racial discrimination, more can be accomplished by the processes of reason than by compulsion.

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Yadgar Nasredinova, only woman vice president of Russia's Supreme Soviet, arrived in London for a two-day unofficial visit.

She told newsmen: "I would like to meet people and visit places of interest. I have never been to London before."

Jones said he would return to Jakarta in about a month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall announced that 31 whooping cranes have arrived at their wintering grounds in Texas. They included seven birds born this year, largest number of young birds counted in the flock since the winter of 1958-59.

"For once," Said Udall, "a report on the population explosion is good news."

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Ex-Congressman Walter Judd says he isn't a candidate for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, but he's going along with plans to promote him as the nominee.

Judd, who is visiting Michigan, said GOP leaders in Minnesota, his home state, are supporting him.

"I haven't sought the nomination and I don't seek it now," Judd told a news conference. "But I have consented to this effort to promote me."

Judd lost his seat in the House in the 1960 election.

More Cloak Than Dagger

Goldwater Hits At The Administration

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

It was a good - humored Barry Goldwater who came to this labor town the other night and "worked out," as the prizefighters say, at the Rockefeller Center Hilton Hotel. He jibed and jabbed at the Kennedy administration — and included a gentle sideswipe at Arthur Goldberg though not by name — as he challenged the Kennedys' right to claim labor's support.

Victor Riesel

The Arizona traveler, though speaking at a banquet given by the investment magazine, Financial World, concentrated on what he claimed were the wrongs done the workingman by the New Frontier.

He did not pander, nor did he woo, though he spoke in the heart of a city where the Central Labor Council has one million members. It was here he decided to take the fight to Jack Kennedy on the very front where the Kennedys feel strongest.

The senator's strategy was simple and direct — he charged that labor had no reason to back the President.

Goldwater asserted the workingman had been "shortchanged by the economic policies" of the White House.

HE HIT HARD with an assertion that the administration had pushed labor as well as management around.

"Collective bargaining," said the senator, "has given way to kind of de facto compulsory arbitration — again, without a law, without consent, without consensus.

"In shipping, in rails, and, yes, even in the affairs of the Metropolitan Opera, short-term and shortsighted intervention have replaced collective bargaining and have darkened the climate for good collective bargaining or good, long-run labor-management relations.

"The working man and the businessman are caught alike in this crisis of confidence."

Then Goldwater charged bluntly that it was the New Frontier itself which was not creating the number of jobs needed to absorb the increasing population. This, he said, was caused by a sluggish economy resulting from administration policies.

"In this fourth year of promises," the senator said, "the number of unemployed is 10 per cent higher than at the time of the incomplete recovery in 1960."

"What confidence can those men and women have in economic theories vested in depression and dependent upon doles?

"WHAT CONFIDENCE can those men and women have in the face of the new demands that new technology places on all job seekers, when they view a tax structure so antiquated that it permits deduction for training in present jobs or even obsolete jobs but penalizes those who would train themselves for better jobs?

"How ironic that we will spent billions to advance the technologies of space flight, while inhibiting the advance of earthly skills!

"How tragic that we will attempt to teach youngsters to fell trees and rake leaves in an age of automation. How tragic that we will seek status quo in our skills, while our science races to the stars."

Then he charged the government leaders with attempting to regiment industry and the nation.

"Where are the jobs, the challenges to our skills? Millions of new jobs are, simply and sadly, lost in the limbo of investments not made, risks not taken, enterprise not dared — because of the lack of confidence that becomes a reflex as an economy is regimented and regulated."

Not once did the senator let up. He threw back at the Kennedy administration the very same figures and charges which the White House and such men as Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz and economic braintruster Walter Heller (who is now believed about to resign) have been heaving at the Republicans in general and Goldwater in particular.

THE SENATOR said the "high rate of unemployment has shown no real improvement for a year — holding at about four million." Then he asked why the jobless are not back at work, why some 1.5 million of them find it is now futile to look for jobs. He asserted there are at least six million Americans who would like to have jobs, "if jobs could be found."

"With the vitality sapped from the creation of jobs," he said, "through a federal philosophy that knows only the solutions of the depression . . . and will not admit that a new day needs new enterprise — with work lagging behind those willing to work, it's estimated that perhaps as many as 1½ million persons simply have stopped trying to get jobs."

Then he quit jabbing and hit hard with his right.

"However profusely certain hearts may bleed for the working man," said the senator, "the fact is that it's the working man who has been shortchanged by the economic policies that give us this sluggish economic performance."

There was more to the senator's talk. But the rest is for the financial department.

Letter To Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

This is a letter directed to a group of high - school age men who drive a 1950-1954 green car.

Halloween night these men, driving in the Oakmont area, followed in their car three young boys. They finally stopped, got out and took the sack of candy collected by one of the boys that also held his jacket and flashlight.

Twice later they came back. The last time they chased the three boys, again frightening them badly.

I understand the same thing happened quite a few places this year.

These men should feel nothing but shame and should very quickly take a long look at themselves.

The Big Difference

By David Lawrence

Reason Urged In 'Rights' Fight

There's a big difference between what corporation executives can readily do as individuals to promote good race relations in a community and what they hesitate to do by way of "economic pressure" in acting and speaking for their company in its dealings with other businesses and the buying public.

David Lawrence

This difference—which is of transcendent importance to every corporation and business firm in the country—wasn't made clear at President Kennedy's press conference last Thursday. Nor was it set forth clearly in the newspaper reports which the President may have previously read about the news conference which Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp., held last Tuesday in New York City.

It would be far better if questions like these were submitted in writing and the answers prepared in advance for further inquiry and comment in impromptu manner at the White House press conference.

As a consequence of the present practice, the public has often been misled. The U.S. Steel Corp., for instance, actually employes, in its Birmingham, Fla., division, Negroes numbering more than 30 per cent of its labor force there. Also, Arthur Wiebel, the top executive of the company in Birmingham, has participated actively—as an individual—in the work of a biracial commission in the city for several years and recommended as far back as 1951 that Negroes be employed in the police force.

He has spent many a day outside his office working with bi-racial commissions and was himself a trustee from 1953 to 1961 at Tuskegee University, a Negro college in Alabama of national prominence.

HERE IS the verbatim record of what Mr. Blough said at his news conference Oct. 29:

"Mr. Wiebel has been very helpful in the community and has tried to carry out our overall U.S. Steel policy of being a good citizen in the community in which we live. Now, the criticism that U.S. Steel hasn't used what some people refer to as economic influence—which I presume to mean some kind of economic force to bring about some kind of change—is, I think, an improper matter on which to criticize Mr. Wiebel or U.S. Steel.

"I think I would have to take considerable time to fully explain this point, but very briefly I'd like to say this: I do not either believe it would be a wise thing for U.S. Steel to be other than a good citizen in the community, or to attempt to have its ideas of what is right for that community enforced upon that community by some sort of economic means.

"This is repugnant to me personally, and, I'm sure, it's repugnant to my fellow officers in U.S. Steel. I doubt very much that this, in principle, is a good thing for any corporation to follow. When we as individuals are citizens in a community, we can exercise what small influence we may have as citizens but for a corporation to attempt to exert any kind of economic compulsion to achieve a particular end in the social area seems to me to be quite beyond what a corporation should do, and I would say also quite beyond what a corporation can do."

Q. "Do you think that you have done all that you should do or can do? And you reject the citicism, do you not?"

MR. BLOUGH: "I would put it this way: That we have fulfilled our responsibility in the Birmingham area—whatever responsibility we have as a corporation or as individuals working with a corporation, because, after all, a corporation is nothing but individuals."

Then came President Kennedy's news conference on Oct. 31:

Q. "The United States Steel Corp. has rejected the idea that it should use economic pressure in an effort to improve race relations in Birmingham, Ala. Do you have any comment on that position, and do you have any counsel for management and labor in general as to their social responsibility in the areas of tension of this kind?

The President: "Actually, Mr. Blough has been somewhat helpful in one or two cases that I can think of in Birmingham. I don't think he should narrowly interpret his responsibility for the future. That is a very influential company in Birmingham, and he wants to see that city prosper, as do we all. Obviously, the federal government cannot solve this matter. So that business has a responsibility—labor and, of course, every citizen. So I would think that particularly a company which is as influential as United States Steel in Birmingham, I would hope would use its influence on the side of comity between the races.

"Otherwise, the future of Birmingham, of course, is not as happy as we hope it would be. In other words, it can't be decided—this matter—in Washington. It has to be decided by citizens everywhere. Blough is an influential citizen. I'm sure he will do the best he can."

THERE ISN'T a word in that reply with which Mr. Blough would probably disagree, because the President has obviously talking about the "influence" of the company officers as individuals, while the newsman who asked the question at the same press conference was inquiring about "economic pressure."

It was the latter concept which the head of the steel corporation had "rejected" at his own news conference.

There's a big difference between what businessmen say as individuals in discussions in community meetings and what they are being asked to do by some persons—namely, to sell to or buy from only the companies which conform to one viewpoint on "civil rights."

To some readers it might appear that President Kennedy feels that the influence of individual businessmen properly exerted is not enough, and that economic pressure is a responsibility of all corporations and businesses and firms.

A clarification by the White House could be helpful in these days when, to diminish racial discrimination, more can be accomplished by the processes of reason than by compulsion.

Delegate Instructed

City Board To Oppose State Group Tax Step

The board of Education decided Monday night to cast a dissenting vote when a resolution recommending the Ohio School Boards Association support a penny increase in the present state sales tax is presented for consideration at the annual OSBA business meeting Nov. 13-14 in Columbus.

The board instructed Harry D. McConville, its official delegate to the session, to oppose the resolution recommended by the OSBA's policy and program committee.

The resolution would authorize the OSBA to endorse an increase in the sales tax rate from 3 to 4 per cent, broadening of the tax base to include services, repairs and amusements and removal of the exemption of the tax on sales under 31 cents.

The increased revenues would be applied toward increased state support of school operating expenses, the resolution provides.

The resolution also calls for the OSBA to "commend and express its co-operation to the governor of Ohio in his program of fiscal prudence and elimination of waste and inefficiency."

The board also instructed McConville, who was unable to attend last night's meeting, to vote in favor of a resolution authorizing the OSBA to oppose legislation which would establish a local income tax for school purposes as a means of financing public education in Ohio.

McConville also was instructed to vote against a proposal authorizing the OSBA to study the advisability of a plan where architectural plans and drawings for school buildings would be made available by the State Department of Education to any Board of Education in the state.

The delegate was authorized to use his own discretion in voting in two other proposals after listening to the debate. One resolution recommends the OSBA support legislation which would allow any school district to employ a business manager.

The other resolution, which was submitted by the policy committee without recommendation, is the question of whether school boards should be permitted to procure and pay all or part of the cost of employe group insurance.

McConville was instructed to support a series of other resolutions and to vote in favor of two changes in the OSBA constitution.

Use Of ZIP Code Plan Seen In Two Years

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The ZIP code plan which the Post Office Department inaugurated last July is merely a giant rehearsal for the public and will not be in use for at least two years, according to Postmaster Otto Buescher of Columbia, Mo.

He explained: "The public is being prepared. People are slow in getting used to it, so the Post Office is starting now. It wants them to be ready when it is ready to go into full-scale automation."

Tape Recording Played At Trial

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A tape recording in which Robert K. Domer, charged with first-degree murder in the death of an Akron fruit peddler, spoke of "removing himself from the scene" has been introduced into evidence at Domer's trial.

The tape was played in the courtroom Monday as the prosecution attempted to support its contention that Domer committed murder in such a way as to make it appear he had taken his own life. The state alleges it was part of a plan by Domer, who had dropped out of sight before the peddler's body was found, to make some $288,000 in insurance available to Domer's beneficiaries.

The body of Howard F. Riddle, 54, was found in Domer's burning car west of Massillon April 23.

Domer mentioned in the tape "the particular dilemma in which we find ourselves." Domer was addressing himself to his wife.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that combination of modest weight and potent power makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a car with lots of room for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension and snug insulation, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions you from bumps.

Boron® cleans carburetors

Sohio has put a special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline that dissolves dirt deposits and washes them away!

To show you how dirty a carburetor can get, Sohio cut one in half. And the hard deposits that had formed inside around the throttle plate were scraped out.

Deposits like these are caused by tiny dirt particles in crankcase fumes from your own engine, in the exhaust of other cars around you in traffic, and in the atmosphere itself. Your air cleaner can't trap all these dirt particles. Some do get through to your carburetor and can build up deposits in the throttle plate section. They can block the air flow to your engine when you are idling. The result is stalling, rough idling and wasted gasoline.

If your carburetor is already dirty, the special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline will clean it. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a Boron Clean Carburetor! If your carburetor is already clean, regular use of Boron Gasoline will keep it clean!

Tape Recording Played At Trial

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A tape recording in which Robert K. Domer, charged with first-degree murder in the death of an Akron fruit peddler, spoke of "removing himself from the scene" has been introduced into evidence at Domer's trial.

The tape was played in the courtroom Monday as the prosecution attempted to support its contention that Domer committed murder in such a way as to make it appear he had taken his own life. The state alleges it was part of a plan by Domer, who had dropped out of sight before the peddler's body was found, to make some $288,000 in insurance available to Domer's beneficiaries.

The body of Howard F. Riddle, 54, was found in Domer's burning car west of Massillon April 23.

Domer mentioned in the tape "the particular dilemma in which we find ourselves." Domer was addressing himself to his wife.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that combination of modest weight and potent power makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a car with lots of room for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension and snug insulation, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions you from bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Just listen to the solid thunk of a door closing or look at the smooth metalwork. You'll see what we mean.

Sound good so far? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

These are deposits scraped from a dirty carburetor. They can cause stalling, rough idling, gasoline waste!

© SOHIO, 1963

Boron cleans carburetors

Sohio has put a special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline that dissolves dirt deposits and washes them away!

To show you how dirty a carburetor can get, Sohio cut one in half. And the hard deposits that had formed inside around the throttle plate were scraped out.

Deposits like these are caused by tiny dirt particles in crankcase fumes from your own engine, in the exhaust of other cars around you in traffic, and in the atmosphere itself. Your air cleaner can't trap all these dirt particles. Some do get through to your carburetor and can build up deposits in the throttle plate section. They can block the air flow to your engine when you are idling. The result is stalling, rough idling and wasted gasoline.

If your carburetor is already dirty, the special Carburetor Cleaner in Boron Gasoline will clean it. Because the deposits are hard, the cleaning process may take time. But the end result will be a Boron Clean Carburetor! If your carburetor is already clean, regular use of Boron Gasoline will keep it clean!

Hancock Leases Recreation Area

Hancock County commissioners formally signed a lease for acquisition and control of a recreation area constructed by federal funds at the site of old Dam 8 on the Ohio River at Newell at their meeting Monday in New Cumberland.

The lease entitles the county to control of 13.3 acres of property at the former lock site for 25 years.

—:—

ARMY ENGINEERS in Pittsburgh said work on converting the old lock site into a public recreation area supplementing a boat launching ramp installed a few years ago is completed.

The federal officials will inspect the $100,000 project soon. They advised that the work is complete, but the recreation area will not be open for public use until the spring.

Razing of the old brick lock buildings, landscaping, construction of hard surface access roads, and installation of sanitary facilities and water was part of the project.

County commissioners leased the property free of charge. William C. Graham, president, said commissioners have been approached by a group desiring to sub - lease the property for a marine base, but no decision has been reached.

—:—

NORMAN FERRARI, county Civil Defense director and Weirton Steel Co. aide, negotiated the contract with the federal government on behalf of the county.

Commissioners also approved an increase in the fees paid county registrars for their door-to-door canvass in January to register eligible voters for the May primary.

The new rates are 20 cents for each new voter registered, and 12 cents for each registration checked, whether canceled or not. The old rates were 15 cents and 8 cents, respectively.

A contract was awarded the M. & E. Co. on its bid of $154.-50 for cutting a doorway from the tax office into a vacant adjacent office on the main floor of the Courthouse.

—:—

APPROVAL was given for purchase of 13 pairs of trousers at $30 each from the Smart Shop in Weirton for county sheriff's deputies.

Like it, Jane?

They must have designed new GAS Ranges for people like us.

All those modern work-saving, time-saving features! They know that with three active children, shopping, PTA and Girl Scouts, every minute is precious. My new Gas Range saves many minutes—even hours every week. This Burner-with-a-Brain makes all my pans automatic. Things never stick or boil over, and I don't have to watch them. When there's an afternoon meeting to attend, I can cook ahead of time. The Keep-Warm Oven cooks automatically then turns itself down to hold dinner at a ready-to-serve temperature, even if I'm late getting home. And wait till my family tastes the steak tonight. Real "steak house" flavor from that smokeless broiler.

Yes, they must have read our minds when they designed the new Gas Ranges.

Aboriginal Explorers Group Given Report On Field Work

A report of the 1963 summer field work was heard at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at the home of Harold Dawson of Boring Ln., president.

Several sites were excavated during the summer throughout the Tri - State area. The club is continuing its program of mapping sites and to date some seven rock shelters have been located in Columbiana County.

The survey shows that although there are several rock ledges in the vicinity of Little Beaver Creek, only those located along known or probable trails were occupied. These generally show multiple occupation from Archaic to historic times.

Artifacts found are recorded as to depth, stratification and concentration. The site records are in the possession of Richard S. Thompson, club secretary.

One site out of the county and another out of the state were excavated the past summer.

John F. Mathias of Oakwood Ave. found a village site in the area of the Berlin Reservoir. It usually is flooded but due to the drought it was uncovered this summer.

Several members aided in the excavation. Potsherds, mussel shells, flake knives and arrow heads were found.

A workshop and slide lectures are planned to improve excavating methods.

Work also was started on the excavation of a village site located 12 miles east of Wheeling.

Four five - foot squares were dug. All the work is being recorded with sketches, written records and photographs.

One burial was located at the site. Myers Campbell of Mingo Junction, Harry R. Cline, Jim Woodrow and Thompson made this excavation. It took four hours to uncover the burial and photograph it.

The burial is believed to be of the Fort Ancient Culture, a prehistoric race who were hunters and engaged in agriculture.

The time was placed between 500 and 1,500 years ago. The pottery found was shell tempered. Some pieces of pot were found in the grave.

20 years—but the size of his margin was a question.

An order by retiring Gov. Bert Combs, barring racial discrimination in businesses licensed by the state, figured in the campaign. While stressing he was not attacking integration, Nunn called the order a dictatorial move to catch votes. Breathitt said he would leave the subject to the next legislature, the order being now inoperative because of litigation.

The only question on civil rights between the major gubernatorial candidates in Mississippi was which man was more strongly segregationist and more vehemently anti-Kennedy. Both men—Democratic Lt. Interest was attracted to Mississippi because the Republicans this year mounted their first serious drive for the governorship since Reconstruction days. A big vote for them would cheer them in their effort to build a two - party system throughout Dixie.

Johnson was expected to win, but some analysts figured his Republican opponent might get as many as 120,000 votes out of perhaps 250,000 cast.

Casting ballots in Negro churches and clubs, Mississippi Negroes were conducting a strictly nonofficial governorship "election" for Aaron Henry, state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. They felt this would be effective as a protest.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

A Little Caviar, A Little Crow

Quite a few weeks ago, in Hollywood, a few tenderfoot writers I know had occasion to sprawl out alongside a swimming pool and let the late-afternoon conversation turn drowsily to television. The group, TV columnists all, was playing a game of what-I - like - best.

Alan Gill

"Good drama well done," answered one of them, a Welsh actor turned critic for the Christian Science Monitor, "and the better documentaries."

-:-

A PERCEPTIVE and darlin' girl from an Eastern daily voted for "Dr. Kildare" and (I don't trust my memory here) "The Nurses."

A gentleman from a warmer climate voted for the Thursday night "family" lineup of last season — "Ozzie and Harriet," "Donna Reed," "Leave It to Beaver," "My Three Sons." And, ABC, I think you'd better grab that fellow before he gets away.

I echoed the first man's selections, then threw in the ghost of Dinah Shore. I also threw in "Lassie" I must admit — a selection that had my companions rolling into the pool. Honest, I didn't mean it, Don and Jean.

-:-

TODAY, I'd like to scratch "Lassie" officially from the race and add a couple of newcomers. Is there anything better on TV just now that "The Danny Kaye Show" and, on the melodrama cricuit, "East Side-West Side"?

Kaye's show hasn't flagged a bit since the man's triumphant opening night. Whether the guests have been Gene Kelly or Mary Tyler Moore and Eddie Foy Jr., the mood has been at once bright and mellow.

An hour with Kaye puts a fellow into a snug, lotus - eating rapture that cannot be dispelled even by a bum joke or a chewing gum jingle.

"East Side - West Side," which had me fence-straddling after its first tearful drama, has won me over to a diet of crow.

I'M DOUBLE convinced that George C. Scott is the most accomplished "regular" on television. And with the episode of a couple of Monday nights ago —the one about a problem - ridden slum school, written by Ossie Davis and Arnold Perl — the series really hit its stride.

All teachers should be as bald, weary and understanding as Howard Da Silva. And all highly charged scenes, like the moment at which the Puerto Rican boy was rebuffed by Da Silva, should be as beautifully staged.

I wish David Susskind and his harried elves at Talent Associates continued inspiration and a long, long run.

-:-

BUT THE SEASON has had its other blessings, too. There was even an "Espionage" episode the other night — Ernest Kinoy's "The Gentle Spies" — that was a thorough success.

I mean the yarn about the English "Ban the Bomb" group with their "We Shall Overcome" theme and their elderly philosopher - leader who not very surprisingly resembled Earl Bertrand Russell.

There was, too, that explosive number on "The Garry Moore Show" not long ago that had Dorothy Loudon dancing wildly through the titles of all the Theda Bara movies ever made, and I'll never forget it.

-:-

THE SAME PROGRAM offered a fine singer named Brock Peters proclaiming that "we gotta be free, the eagle and me" with a grin wide enough to convince Barry Goldwater, and a sketch that had an apoplectic papa slamming his fist through his fedora.

(Said his worried daughter-in-law: "Daddy you know what the doctor said about your hat.")

Then, a week ago, there was the new NBC magazine - format show, "Sunday," which gave a once-over-lightly — oh, my, how lightly — to the latest books (a history of warfare), the latest political "phenomenon" (yep, the senator from Arizona), movies ("Tom Jones"), and sports (the managerial aptitude of Yogi Berra).

-:-

THE PERSONALITY of this opening show was established immediately in its cast-in-gold symbol, an "Omnibus" sun with a sloppy smile on its face.

It tended to get a little too waggist about whale watching, the liquor consumption of Washington, D. C., and the little 103-year-old lady who had just taken out health insurance.

But I thought the waggery paid off in "Sunday's" discussion of Frank Sinatra's real estate problems, while the Sinatra rendition of "Everything Happens to Me" underscored the action.

And an excerpt from Benjamin Britten's War Requiem was illustrated movingly with scenes of the trench warfare in World War I.

"Sunday" isn't out of the woods, yet. But its producer is a fellow named Craig Fisher. And, if anyone does Craig Fisher knows the way.

Age Barrier Intervenes

Herron And Huff Denied Posts With Hancock ASC

Because of a state regulation setting 70 as the maximum age for members of farmer committees, two elderly Hancock County men have been denied posts on the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, to which they were elected.

West virginia officials in Morgantown turned thumbs down on a request that the age barrier be waived for Charles C. Herron of Pughtown and W. C. Huff of State Route 2, near Chester.

Herron, an octogenarian and highly - respected for his efforts in farm conservation, and Huff, 74, were elected regular member and alternate, respectively, this fall by county farmers.

The County ASC office in New Cumberland requested Morgantown farm officials to waive the age restrictions, but received word Saturday that the pair will not be permitted to serve.

The ASC committee elected in a vote by mail now will be reshuffled, according to Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager in New Cumberland.

Plummer Smith has been named to replace Herron as regular member. Smith previously was first alternate. No one will be named to replace Huff, who was second alternate.

The new committee now will be Carl Allison, chairman, Shields Mayhew and Smith, with no alternate members available. Committee members receive $14 a day for each meeting, but generally meet only one - half day each month. New one - year terms of the ASC members committee members started Nov. 1.

Herron had served as chairman of the ASC Committee for about 30 years, until two years ago when he polled enough votes to remain as a regular member.

The secretary of agriculture last year named a study committee to make a review of the farmer committee system of administering farm programs.

One of its strongest recommendations was that no member of a county committee should be more than 70 at the start of his term. This recommendation later was incorporated in state provisions to apply to all West Virginia counties.

Richard G. Brian Given New Area Post In Ruritans

County Recorder Richard G. Brian of Vine St. was named to the newly - created post of District 8 lieutenant governor at the annual fall meeting of Ohio Ruritan Clubs Saturday night at Sandy Valley High School, near Augusta.

In the new post, Brian's jurisdiction will cover southern Columbiana County, the northern sections of Hancock and Jefferson Counties and the south side of Beaver County.

He was named by Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown, Ohio Ruritan governor.

Brian was in a delegation that represented the Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club at the session. Others were John Geren, Jerry Steele, Forrest Saucer, Hal Emerson and Nelson Larkins.

The Ruritan organization has three other district governors in this area — Harold Windram of Leetonia, Zone 1; Richard Barnhouse of Rogers, Zone 2, and Franklin Henderson of Salem, Zone 4.

Principal speaker was Harold Singleton of Roanoke, Va., president of Ruritan National. He was introduced by Floyd Lower of Lisbon, the immediate past national president.

West virginia officials in Morgantown turned thumbs down on a request that the age barrier be waived for Charles C. Herron of Pughtown and W. C. Huff of State Route 2, near Chester.

Herron, an octogenarian and highly - respected for his efforts in farm conservation, and Huff, 74, were elected regular member and alternate, respectively, this fall by county farmers.

The County ASC office in New Cumberland requested Morgantown farm officials to waive the age restrictions, but received word Saturday that the pair will not be permitted to serve.

The ASC committee elected in a vote by mail now will be reshuffled, according to Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager in New Cumberland.

Plummer Smith has been named to replace Herron as regular member. Smith previously was first alternate. No one will be named to replace Huff, who was second alternate.

The new committee now will be Carl Allison, chairman, Shields Mayhew and Smith, with no alternate members available. Committee members receive $14 a day for each meeting, but generally meet only one - half day each month. New one - year terms of the ASC members committee members started Nov. 1.

Herron had served as chairman of the ASC Committee for about 30 years, until two years ago when he polled enough votes to remain as a regular member.

The secretary of agriculture last year named a study committee to make a review of the farmer committee system of administering farm programs.

One of its strongest recommendations was that no member of a county committee should be more than 70 at the start of his term. This recommendation later was incorporated in state provisions to apply to all West Virginia counties.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The best way I know to get a problem before the public is to write to Ann Landers. I hope you'll print my letter and perhaps spare other couples the grief my daughter and son-in-law are now going through.

After seven childless years our daughter and son-in-law became discouraged and decided to adopt. They were interviewed by three agencies and told to "be patient." Their patience wore thin after two years so my daughter was understandably receptive to the suggestion of a friend who had gotten two gray market babies and was delighted with them.

My daughter's husband agreed to go the gray market route and two months later they received a beautiful little girl. She was the light of their lives for 10 glorious months.

Last May the baby's natural mother turned up at their front door and demanded her child. She claimed she was irrational when she agreed to sell her baby to "that crook of a lawyer." I'll skip the details, but my daughter and son-in-law were taken into court and they lost.

The nursery door now is locked and theirs is the saddest home I've ever seen. They are paying dearly for their mistake. Please print this, Ann.—SHATTERED GRANDMOTHER.

-:-

Dear Grandmother: Yours is not the first such letter that has appeared in this column, but it is worth repeating. Thank you for writing. And again, let's hope this serves as a deterrent to childless couples who are tempted to take a short cut.

Loused-Up Life

Dear Ann: What's the matter wth me? I go from one miserable affair to another. I'll tell you my story briefly and maybe you can help.

I quit school at 16 to marry a foreigner who was 33. My mother thought he had money. She was right—but I couldn't get my hands on it. The marriage lasted six months.

I went with another man who fooled me for two years before I learned he was married and had four kids. The next fellow was married but said his divorce would be coming through "any day." I got disgusted after 15 months and left town to go live with my cousin and her husband.

Her husband and I fell in love. My cousin found out about it and threw me out of the house. Now I'm back in this miserable town and my reputation is mud.

Why am I so loused up. Please help me.—HARD LUCK LIZ.

-:-

Dear Liz: It's not your luck that's hard—it's your head.

Move to a city where no one knows you. Resolve to go with only respectable people. Join church groups and clubs where decent people meet. Stay out of bars and joints. Replace that macaroni in your spine with sterner stuff. And stop looking for short cuts to Paradise.

Doctor In The House

Dear Ann: A friend of ours who is in the funeral business has a habit which annoys me terribly. If you tell me he is right I will apologize to him.

When this friend introduces a clergyman he invariably says, "I would like you to know Dr. Quentin Collingswood, a doctor of divinity."

This sounds so pompous that my blood pressure takes a leap every time I hear it. What do you think about this type of introduction?—ANTI-POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE.

-:-

Dear Anti-Pomp: I would not say your friend is wrong but he surely is using a great many superfluous words. It would be simpler to say, "This is the Rev. Quentin Collingswood.

One does not introduce a dentist as "Dr. Fransworth, doctor of dental surgery," or "Dr. Rosenheim, doctor of philosophy"—not that it would be incorrect, but because it would be awkward.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's scholastic football spotlight will be focused on northeastern gridirons Saturday as four former state champions battle in a pair of contests with the 1963 title probably riding on the results.

Massillon's Tigers, leaders in the current Associated Press poll, meet Canton McKinley's 11th-rated Bulldogs in Canton Fawcett Stadium. Toledo Central Catholic's 1962 champions go against Nile McKinley's 1961 title-holders, who are right behind Massillon in the 1963 struggle.

Massillon has won the title nine times since the poll was inaugurated in 1947. Three times the Tigers were second.

Canton McKinley grabbed the crown in 1955 and 1956. Niles won it in 1961, and Toledo Central took the Rutgers Hall of Fame Trophy emblematic of the title a year ago.

Massillon's clash with Canton McKinley will be the second of the year, the Tigers winning 24-20 on Oct. 11 at Massillon. The Stark County talk indicates the Bulldogs could cost the Tigers the crown this time.

Springfield South, a challenger all year for the top spot in the poll, was dumped 18-16 by Lima Senior and fell from second to eighth place.

Unbeaten Wilmington was able to defeat Washington Court House by only 2-0 and lost support, surrendering its spot in the Top Ten. Canton McKinley, tied for 10th last week, dropped a notch despite a 30-0 victory over Cuyahoga Falls, and Akron Hoban's unbeaten - untied team made its first appearance among the elite by taking ninth.

Akron Garfield, Massillon's lone conquerer, jumped from seventh to fifth with a 56-6 triumph over Akron Buchtel, while Sandusky moved up a notch to third with a 23-14 verdict over Lorain Admiral King.

From here and there:

Greenfield McClain, after 22 losses and a scoreless tie, beat Franklin Heights 22-20 to break the string. Newark's scoreless tie with Zanesville assured the Wildcats their first Central Ohio League title since 1948.

New Lexington beat Glouster 80-0 for a 9-0 record and goes against Crooksville, also 9-0, for the Muskingum Valley loop crown Friday. And two other 9-0 clubs, Baltimore Liberty-Union and Millersport, tangle Friday to determine the Mid-State League crown. Steve Budnick of Millersport has scored 176 points.

Coaches Lloyd Dunne of Ashland and Chuck Stobart of Mount Vernon took their jobs in 1961, and each had an 0-10 season. The next year each had a 4-5 record. This year—each is 9-0, with Ashland taking the Cardinal Conference title and Mount Vernon the Central Buckeye. Ashland's Jim Minnich ran for 245 yards and scored four touchdowns for a 128-point season in the 60-14 rout of Defiance. Mount Vernon's perfect season is its third in eight years.

Coach Carroll Hawhee of Waverly won his 100th victory in 14 seasons with the 46-0 triumph over Wheelersburg. He has a 100-36-5 mark.

Roy Lammers of Dover St. St. Joseph scored four times to run his season's point total to 122 as Danville fell 39-16. Arnie Fontes, Canton McKinley quarterback, has thrown 11 touchdown passes and averages seven yards per carry. He also place-kicks and punts. Warren Harding set a school record of 615 yards rushing and passing as the Panthers beat Steubenville 52-12.

Willard, Bucyrus and Bellevue scored shutouts Friday to tie for the Northern Ohio League title with 6-1 records—and all three are 8-1 overall.

Lorain's Ken Kohlmeyer has caught 30 passes this year, a school record. Cleveland St. Ignatius, 18-0 over two seasons, whipped West Tech 50-0 and needs only a victory over Cleveland South next Saturday to get into the big town's title game.

Fremont St. Joseph wound up unbeaten for the second straight year with a 19-game string. It was the third unbeaten season in four years for Coach Robert Smith.

Longhorns Draw Overwhelming Vote To Remain No. 1; Illinois Second

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Unbeaten, untied Texas is maintaining its tight grip as the nation's No. 1 college football team despite fears by Coach Darrell Royal that the Longhorns may be battling "a complex about those zeroes in the second half."

Texas again drew an overwhelming vote Monday for the top spot in The Associated Press weekly poll, but Royal appeared apprehensive as he spoke in Austin, Tex., about Saturday's game against Baylor, tied with the Longhorns for the Southwest Conference lead.

As fo the complex Royal mentioned, it's the fact that Texas has failed to score in the second half in their last three games—won by a total of only 13 points.

Despite the squeakers, Texas gained 45 of the 53 first-place votes of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters for 502 points. Illinois was second with 425 points. The Longhorns defeated SMU 17-12 last Saturday while the Illini crushed Purdue 41-21.

The only major change in the Top Ten was Michigan State's arrival on the scene in the No. 9 spot after a 30-13 walloping of Wisconsin. The Badgers, who had been ranked eighth, dropped from the list.

Mississippi held third, with Navy fourth and Auburn, the only other unbeaten, untied team on the list, in fifth place. Oklahoma was sixth followed by Alabama, Pittsburgh, Michigan State and Ohio State.

With the exception of idle Alabama, all will be in action Saturday and Royal figures his top-ranked Longhorns face a stiff test in Baylor, led by a top passing combination in quarterback Don Trull and flanker Larry Elkins.

Police Dogs Rout Clay From Near Home Of Liston

DENVER (AP) — Police dogs routed Cassius Clay from in front of Sonny Liston's home early today as the heavyweight challenger shouted at the champion and honked the horn of his bus.

Seven police cars surrounded Clay's bus, which was decorated with such slogans as "Sonny Liston will go in eight."

In the doorway of his home, Liston watched without any show of emotion.

A big police dog was within inches of Clay as the No. 1 contender was told to "move on right away or be taken in," Clay left promptly.

2 Frustrating Seasons

Mets' Craig Had Suffered Enough, Becomes Cardinal

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have good news for you. You've been traded."

Those were the first words Roger Craig heard after Johnny Murphy, the long distance caller from New York, had been assured by the telephone operator he had reached his party.

"I know you will like the club you're going to," said Murphy, who serves as assistant to George Weiss, the New York Mets' president and general manager.

"The first clubs that came to my mind were the Dodgers, Cardinals, Giants and Yankees," Craig recalled as he told how he first learned of Monday's trade which sent him to the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for outfielder George Altman and Bill Wakefield, a minor league pitcher.

"I knew I'd be traded," the veteran pitcher said when contacted by telephone at his home in Lakewood, Calif. "I was praying it wouldn't be to another second division club. I felt I suffered enough."

The two seasons he spent with the Mets must have been the most frustrating of Roger's life. He pitched well enough in each of those years to have been a 20-game winner with a contending club. But with the cellar-mired Mets, he was a 20-game loser both years. His combined 15-46 record was misleading. Nine of his 24 defeats last season were by shutouts, four by scores of 1-0.

"This deal should help me mentally as well as physically," said Craig, who will be 33 in March. "The Cards have been the toughest team in the league for me to beat."

Altman, a 30-year-old southpaw swinger, batted only .274 with nine home runs at St. Louis last season. The Cards had expected a great deal more from him after acquiring him from the Chicago Cubs last winter.

Craig was in 46 games last season, starting 36 and completing 14.

"I feel I've never pitched better than last year despite my record," said Craig. "I had better control, better stuff and my arm didn't bother me despite all the work.

"I have no bad feeling toward the Mets. They treated me fine and the fans were wonderful. Those two years with the Mets could be a blessing. I learned to cope with adversity. I think my stay in New York made me a better pitcher because it taught me to bear down harder. There was plenty of opportunity."

Globetrotters Clown Way To Defeat In London Game

By GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters, plied with champagne by Prince Philip, clowned their way to defeat in a mock basketball game Monday night against a team of British stage comics and television personalities.

Queen Elizabeth's husband was 12th man (Reserve) for the Lord's Taverners, a sports and social club which raises money for charities.

At halftime, with the Globetrotters leading 20-0, the Prince walked on to the floor in a wine waiter's jacket, wheeling a refreshment trolley.

He handed a silver cup of champagne to each of the Globetrotters. Then he produced an old teapot and poured out cups of tea for the Englishmen.

The Globetrotters flew from the United States specially to give their services without fee for the event, staged during a ball in aid of the British National Playing Fields Association. Some 2,000 watched the game between dancing.

The Taverners had announced in advance that they would win the game, whatever methods were necessary. In the second half the Globetrotters good-humoredly let them get on with it.

Every time a Globetrotter took a shot, someone pulled a string and jerked the basket out of the way.

The Taverners' captain, comedian Richard Hearne, shinnied up the supporting pole of the basket at the other end and popped half a dozen balls into the basket one after another as his teammates handed them up.

The Taverners were declared official winners 26-24.

Boxer Is Jailed After Brush With Youngstown Cop

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—An inability to get along with policemen has cost an amateur boxer a $100 fine and a six-month jail sentence.

Ted Gullick, 18, of Youngstown was sentenced Monday by Municipal Court Judge Don L. Hanni as a result of his involvement in a mob disturbance Thursday night in which two policemen were beaten.

The penalty was for violating terms of probation in a previous case.

Police accused Gullick of starting a disturbance after a football game which resulted in patrolman Edward Mika, 37, and John Updegraff, 41, being beaten. Updegraff fired several shots from his service revolver during the melee, and one shot hit Gullick in the shoulder.

Gullick had been given a suspended sentence by Judge Hanni last August for attacking a special policeman at a roller skating rink.

Clay And Liston Will Sign Today

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Loudmouthed Cassius Clay and silent Sonny Liston, the champ, confront each other in a hotel room today to sign a contract for their long-rumored world's heavyweight championship fight.

Most guessers predicted the two Negroes will fight 15 rounds in Los Angeles next February. The details will be announced at the contract signing scheduled for 4 p.m. EST.

Talkative Cassius blew into town Monday night in his private bus festooned with signs proclaiming: "I'm the greatest" and "Cassius Clay, next heavyweight champion."

The Louisville, Ky., lip spouted his customary kind words for Liston. "He's too ugly to be world's champion," Clay told reporters. "I'm pretty as a girl."

Liston, dressed like a dude from London's Bond Street, turned up at the Denver airport to meet former champion Joe Louis and his wife, Martha, who planed in from California. Mrs. Louis is a lawyer for Liston, who makes his home in Denver.

"I came along just for a free ride," Louis said.

Liston, resplendent in an executive-style gray suit, smart black hat and gold-handled swagger stick, was accompanied by his wife, Geraldine.

Louis predicted Clay would last longer against Liston's sledge hammer fists than Floyd Patterson who lost the title to Liston in the first round at Chicago and absorbed another first round knockout in the rematch at Las Vegas, Nev., last July 22. Liston's record is 35 victories, one loss, no draws and 25 knockouts.

"Clay has a better defensive style and moves better," Louis said. "I don't think he can beat Sonny, but any time two big men meet in the ring anything can happen."

Liston, in a rare mood at the airport, joked with reporters about Clay and said he was prepared "to go 30 rounds—15 running after him and 15 fighting him."

Howe's Thoughts Of New Record Is 'Bugging Him'

DETROIT (AP) — Can it be that Gordie Howe's thoughts of goal No. 545 are bugging him?

"Sure," says Detroit Red Wings Manager-Coach Sid Abel.

Howe has gone scoreless in four games since he tied Maurice (The Rocket) Richard's all-time career record of 544 goals in the National Hockey League. Gordie needs one goal to break the retired Montreal star's record.

"Sure this thing is bothering him," Abel said Monday. "I'm conscious of it myself. I've been using him on the power play—on the point."

Putting a man "on the point" means that he's kept in a preferable position to make the shot at the goal on a drive at the nets.

Howe has been off form. In Detroit's last two games, defeats by Montreal and Boston, he had few shots on goal. He has scored only four goals while playing in 10 games, a poor season's start for the 18-year veteran.

Abel said the elusive goal No. 545 apparently has bothered the entire team.

Howe's teammates dearly want him to get that goal.

The Red Wings have been doing poorly this season. They have won only four of 11 games, tieing one. They have lost all five of their road games.

Howe gets his next chance for the record breaker against the New York Rangers here Thursday night.

Oscar, Wilt Top Scorers In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Robertson or Wilt Chamberlain. Take your pick as to which one is the current scoring leader in the National Basketball Association.

Robertson, the Big O of the Cincinnati Royals, is listed as No. 1 in the weekly official NBA statistics released today on the basis of his 246 points in 10 games. However, it's the Big Dipper of the San Francisco Warriors who is on top if you prefer to list them according to per game averages. Chamberlain has scored 189 points in six games, but his average is 31.5 compared to 24.6 for Robertson.

This is how the top five looks, according to total points scored: 1. Robertson 246; 2. Bob Pettit, St. Louis, 222; 3. Jerry West, Los Angeles, 213; 4. Walt Bellamy, Baltimore, 205; 5. Chamberlain, 189.

According to averages the top five would be 1. Chamberlain, 31.5; 2. West, 30.3; 3. Pettit, 27.8; 4. Bellamy, 25.6; 5. Robertson, 24.6.

The Royals' Jerry Lucas leads in rebounding with 167. He has scored 159 points for a 16.9-per game average to rank ninth in scoring.

Chargers Top AFL Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Sid Gillman's San Diego Chargers widened their total offense lead in the American Football League over the weekend by rolling up 528 yards in their 53-7 romp over the New York Jets.

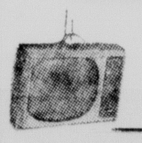

Tobin Rote accounted for 369 yards with his passes and Paul Lowe, Keith Lincoln and Co. added the rest. As a result of this outburst the Chargers have an impressive average of 392.2 yards per game for their first eight games.

Only the Buffalo Bills are within shouting distance of San Diego and they're not too close. Buffalo has averaged 363.2 yards. Houston in third place averaged 315.2 yards.

Buffalo displaced Houston as the passing leader with a 238.8-yard average and San Diego remained on top in the rushing department with 160.3 yards per game.

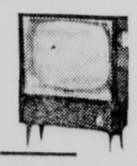

The Boston Patriots who showed plenty of offense in slugging Houston 45-3, also helped their defensive record. The Pats have yielded an average of 244.7 yards per game, almost 50 yards less than second-place Oakland.

Manley, Hall Forzano Gain Grid Honors

Quarterback Bob Forzano was named the back of the week while tackle Bud Manley and end Bill Hall tied for linemen honors for their performances in the Salem contest Friday.

Coach Bob Hedmond said "Forzano was our leading ground gainer, picking up 104 yards and scored one touchdown."

"Manley was picked for his steady defensive game and good blocking, and Hall for his blocking and pass catching. Hall threw two key blocks in the game and one turned Forzano loose for his touchdown," Hedmond added.

East Liverpool High's reserve gridders were nosed out in the last minute of play, 20-14, by the Salem Quakers Monday night at Salem.

The Potters had matched touchdowns with the Quakers who drove 70 yards late in the fourth quarter for the winning TD.

After Salem had scored a touchdown and conversion the Potters came back with a TD on a short pass from John Lowery to Mike Goodballet. The try for the conversion failed.

The Quakers went in front 14-6 but the game Potters bounced back to score late in the third quarter when Ralph Smith made a leaping catch of a pass thrown by Goodballet. The play covered 35 yards. Smith went in for the conversion to tie the game.

The Potter reserves close their season Saturday morning at Lisbon. Game time is 10 a.m.

Police Dogs Rout Clay From Near Home Of Liston

DENVER (AP) — Police dogs routed Cassius Clay from in front of Sonny Liston's home early today as the heavyweight challenger shouted at the champion and honked the horn of his bus.

Seven police cars surrounded Clay's bus, which was decorated with such slogans as "Sonny Liston will go in eight."

In the doorway of his home, Liston watched without any show of emotion.

A big police dog was within inches of Clay as the No. 1 contender was told to "move on right away or be taken in," Clay left promptly.

2 Frustrating Seasons

Mets' Craig Had Suffered Enough, Becomes Cardinal

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I have good news for you. You've been traded."

Those were the first words Roger Craig heard after Johnny Murphy, the long distance caller from New York, had been assured by the telephone operator he had reached his party.

"I know you will like the club you're going to," said Murphy, who serves as assistant to George Weiss, the New York Mets' president and general manager.

"The first clubs that came to my mind were the Dodgers, Cardinals, Giants and Yankees," Craig recalled as he told how he first learned of Monday's trade which sent him to the St. Louis Cardinals in exchange for outfielder George Altman and Bill Wakefield, a minor league pitcher.

"I knew I'd be traded," the veteran pitcher said when contacted by telephone at his home in Lakewood, Calif. "I was praying it wouldn't be to another second division club. I felt I suffered enough."

The two seasons he spent with the Mets must have been the most frustrating of Roger's life. He pitched well enough in each of those years to have been a 20-game winner with a contending club. But with the cellar-mired Mets, he was a 20-game loser both years. His combined 15-46 record was misleading. Nine of his 24 defeats last season were by shutouts, four by scores of 1-0.

"This deal should help me mentally as well as physically," said Craig, who will be 33 in March. "The Cards have been the toughest team in the league for me to beat."

Altman, a 30-year-old southpaw swinger, batted only .274 with nine home runs at St. Louis last season. The Cards had expected a great deal more from him after acquiring him from the Chicago Cubs last winter.

Craig was in 46 games last season, starting 36 and completing 14.

"I feel I've never pitched better than last year despite my record," said Craig. "I had better control, better stuff and my arm didn't bother me despite all the work.

"I have no bad feeling toward the Mets. They treated me fine and the fans were wonderful. Those two years with the Mets could be a blessing. I learned to cope with adversity. I think my stay in New York made me a better pitcher because it taught me to bear down harder. There was plenty of opportunity."

Globetrotters Clown Way To Defeat In London Game

By GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON (AP)—The Harlem Globetrotters, plied with champagne by Prince Philip, clowned their way to defeat in a mock basketball game Monday night against a team of British stage comics and television personalities.

Queen Elizabeth's husband was 12th man (Reserve) for the Lord's Taverners, a sports and social club which raises money for charities.

At halftime, with the Globetrotters leading 20-0, the Prince walked on to the floor in a wine waiter's jacket, wheeling a refreshment trolley.

He handed a silver cup of champagne to each of the Globetrotters. Then he produced an old teapot and poured out cups of tea for the Englishmen.

The Globetrotters flew from the United States specially to give their services without fee for the event, staged during a ball in aid of the British National Playing Fields Association. Some 2,000 watched the game between dancing.

The Taverners had announced in advance that they would win the game, whatever methods were necessary. In the second half the Globetrotters good-humoredly let them get on with it.

Every time a Globetrotter took a shot, someone pulled a string and jerked the basket out of the way.

The Taverners' captain, comedian Richard Hearne, shinnied up the supporting pole of the basket at the other end and popped half a dozen balls into the basket one after another as his teammates handed them up.

The Taverners were declared official winners 26-24.

Boxer Is Jailed After Brush With Youngstown Cop

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—An inability to get along with policemen has cost an amateur boxer a $100 fine and a six-month jail sentence.

Ted Gullick, 18, of Youngstown was sentenced Monday by Municipal Court Judge Don L. Hanni as a result of his involvement in a mob disturbance Thursday night in which two policemen were beaten.

The penalty was for violating terms of probation in a previous case.

Police accused Gullick of starting a disturbance after a football game which resulted in patrolman Edward Mika, 37, and John Updegraff, 41, being beaten. Updegraff fired several shots from his service revolver during the melee, and one shot hit Gullick in the shoulder.

Gullick had been given a suspended sentence by Judge Hanni last August for attacking a special policeman at a roller skating rink.

Clay And Liston Will Sign Today

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DENVER (AP) — Loud-mouthed Cassius Clay and silent Sonny Liston, the champ, confront each other in a hotel room today to sign a contract for their long-rumored world's heavyweight championship fight.

Most guessers predicted the two Negroes will fight 15 rounds in Los Angeles next February. The details will be announced at the contract signing scheduled for 4 p.m. EST.

Talkative Cassius blew into town Monday night in his private bus festooned with signs proclaiming: "I'm the greatest" and "Cassius Clay, next heavyweight champion."

The Louisville, Ky., lip spouted his customary kind words for Liston. "He's too ugly to be world's champion," Clay told reporters. "I'm pretty as a girl."

Liston, dressed like a dude from London's Bond Street, turned up at the Denver airport to meet former champion Joe Louis and his wife, Martha, who planed in from California. Mrs. Louis is a lawyer for Liston, who makes his nome in Denver.

"I came along just for a free ride," Louis said.

Liston, resplendent in an executive-style gray suit, smart black hat and gold-handled swagger stick, was accompanied by his wife, Geraldine.

Louis predicted Clay would last longer against Liston's sledge hammer fists than Floyd Patterson who lost the title to Liston in the first round at Chicago and absorbed another first round knockout in the rematch at Las Vegas, Nev., last July 22. Liston's record is 35 victories, one loss, no draws and 25 knockouts.

"Clay has a better defensive style and moves better," Louis said. "I don't think he can beat Sonny, but any time two big men meet in the ring anything can happen."

Liston, in a rare mood at the airport, joked with reporters about Clay and said he was prepared "to go 30 rounds—15 running after him and 15 fighting him."

Howe's Thoughts Of New Record Is 'Bugging Him'

DETROIT (AP) — Can it be that Gordie Howe's thoughts of goal No. 545 are bugging him?

"Sure," says Detroit Red Wings Manager-Coach Sid Abel.

Howe has gone scoreless in four games since he tied Maurice (The Rocket) Richard's all-time career record of 544 goals in the National Hockey League. Gordie needs one goal to break the retired Montreal star's record.

"Sure this thing is bothering him," Abel said Monday. "I'm conscious of it myself. I've been using him on the power play—on the point."

Putting a man "on the point" means that he's kept in a preferable position to make the shot at the goal on a drive at the nets.

Howe has been off form. In Detroit's last two games, defeats by Montreal and Boston, he had few shots on goal. He has scored only four goals while playing in 10 games, a poor season's start for the 18-year veteran.

Abel said the elusive goal No. 545 apparently has bothered the entire team.

Howe's teammates dearly want him to get that goal.

The Red Wings have been doing poorly this season. They have won only four of 11 games, tieing one. They have lost all five of their road games.

Howe gets his next chance for the record breaker against the New York Rangers here Thursday night.

Oscar, Wilt Top Scorers In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Oscar Robertson or Wilt Chamberlain. Take your pick as to which one is the current scoring leader in the National Basketball Association.

Robertson, the Big O of the Cincinnati Royals, is listed as No. 1 in the weekly official NBA statistics released today on the basis of his 246 points in 10 games. However, it's the Big Dipper of the San Francisco Warriors who is on top if you prefer to list them according to per game averages. Chamberlain has scored 189 points in six games, but his average is 31.5 compared to 24.6 for Robertson.

This is how the top five looks, according to total points scored: 1. Robertson 246; 2. Bob Pettit, St. Louis, 222; 3. Jerry West, Los Angeles, 213; 4. Walt Bellamy, Baltimore, 205; 5. Chamberlain, 189.

According to averages the top five would be 1. Chamberlain, 31.5; 2. West, 30.3; 3. Pettit, 27.8; 4. Bellamy, 25.6; 5. Robertson, 24.6.

The Royals' Jerry Lucas leads in rebounding with 167. He has scored 159 points for a 16.9-per game average to rank ninth in scoring.

Chargers Top AFL Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Sid Gillman's San Diego Chargers widened their total offense lead in the American Football League over the weekend by rolling up 528 yards in their 53-7 romp over the New York Jets.

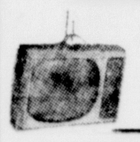

Tobin Rote accounted for 369 yards with his passes and Paul Lowe, Keith Lincoln and Co. added the rest. As a result of this outburst the Chargers have an impressive average of 392.2 yards per game for their first eight games.

Only the Buffalo Bills are within shouting distance of San Diego and they're not too close. Buffalo has averaged 363.2 yards. Houston in third place averaged 315.2 yards.

Buffalo displaced Houston as the passing leader with a 238.8-yard average and San Diego remained on top in the rushing department with 160.3 yards per game.

The Boston Patriots who showed plenty of offense in slugging Houston 45-3, also helped their defensive record. The Pats have yielded an average of 244.7 yards per game, almost 50 yards less than second-place Oakland.

Manley, Hall Forzano Gain Grid Honors

Quarterback Bob Forzano was named the back of the week while tackle Bud Manley and end Bill Hall tied for linemen honors for their performances in the Salem contest Friday.

Coach Bob Hedmond said "Forzano was our leading ground gainer, picking up 104 yards and scored one touchdown."

"Manley was picked for his steady defensive game and good blocking, and Hall for his blocking and pass catching. Hall threw two key blocks in the game and one turned Forzano loose for his touchdown," Hedmond added.

Blue And White Club Sets Meeting Tonight

Salem Edges Potter Subs

East Liverpool High's reserve gridders were nosed out in the last minute of play, 20-14, by the Salem Quakers Monday night at Salem.

The Potters had matched touchdowns with the Quakers who drove 70 yards late in the fourth quarter for the winning TD.

After Salem had scored a touchdown and conversion the Potters came back with a TD on a short pass from John Lowery to Mike Goodballet. The try for the conversion failed.

The Quakers went in front 14-6 but the game Potters bounced back to score late in the third quarter when Ralph Smith made a leaping catch of a pass thrown by Goodballet. The play covered 35 yards. Smith went in for the conversion to tie the game.

The Potter reserves close their season Saturday morning at Lisbon. Game time is 10 a. m.

Rentals Given Board's Okay

Three rentals were approved Monday night by the Board of Education.

The Lincoln PTA was authorized to use the school gymnasium Nov. 13, 20 and 27 and Dec. 4 and 11 for ballroom dancing classes for custodial fees only.

It also was given permission to use the East Junior High gymnasium on Dec. 14 for a party for members of the dancing class. The charge also will be only for custodial fees.

The Kiwanis Club was authorized to use the cafeteria at Westgate School for its annual pancake supper Dec. 7 at the usual rental fee of 18.

Reporting on the water problem at the Glenmoor school, Supt. Paul H. Blair said school officials have received "wonderful cooperation" from the Glenmoor volunteer fire department which has been hauling water to take care of the restrooms.

The well is providing an adequate amount of drinking water, Blair said.

The water supply and school have been inspected and approved by the county sanitarian, the superintendent reported.

To conserve water, the noon recess has been cut to 30 minutes and children have been bringing their lunch so that classes can be dismissed earlier, he explained.

The water problem arose several weeks ago when the well virtually went dry because of the severe drought. Half - day sessions were held on two days.

Blair said suggestions have been received that a tank be installed outside the building with a removal hose so the fire department would not have to make so many trips.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My husband wears starched uniforms to work. I have to wash and iron six each week. . . .

Please tell me what I can do about the mud, rain and soil stains on the legs of his trousers. When it rains, these stains sometimes go as high as the knee when he gets in and out of his truck.

WIFE.

DEAR WIFE: Try using plain, old boiled starch.

After taking the garment from the washing machine and while the garment is still thoroughly wet . . . dip the pants into warm boiled starch up to the knee (you can go further if you want to), then proceed as usual.

When these mud and dirt stains get on the trousers thereafter they will stick to the starch and not work themselves into the fibers of the fabric.

Next time you wash the trousers . . . when you wash the starch out the dirt will also leave. The starch acts as an absorbent.

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: Here's a helpful hint that I think cat owners will love, especially if they keep a sand box.

Instead of using a cardboard box filled with sand, buy a plastic dishpan. It works much better. The bottom will not fall out when you empty and refill it. It's cleaner, can be washed and re-used. Also, it looks much nicer in your home, and it's far more sanitary.

MRS. LYNN LACKEY.

NOTICE: Ladies, I would like to caution you not to use cleaning fluids on upholstery fabrics if you have foam rubber cushions. Sometimes it deteriorates the rubber inside the cushions. We have had many complaints on this.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are afraid of duplicating gifts to a new baby . . . Why not present it with a bankbook made out in its own name?

MRS. WILLIAM SPLINTER.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who send little children to school with peanut butter sandwiches:

Try keeping a loaf of bread in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Remove the few slices you need each morning and spread the peanut butter on the frozen bread.

The bread never tears, never squashes, and the peanut butter spreads easily. But the time the kids get ready to eat lunch the sandwiches look as if they were professionally made.

MOTHER OF 10 KIDS.

-:-

Bless you, Mommy! And all 10 siblings. Frozen bread is fantabulous for this. Try it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Snap clothespins are very good to give school children to carry in their coat pockets so they can fasten their mittens, rubber over shoes, etc., together.

There is room on the clothespin to write the name of your child, the teacher and the room number for easy identification in case they are lost. I use large wooden spring - type clothespins for this.

If a pair of gloves is lost . . . they can easily be identified and returned to their proper owner.

MRS. H. EATON

DEAR HELOISE: A TV tray (on legs) is a great help when placed near the sewing machine to keep your scissors, extra bobbins, thread and material nearby.

Tape the instruction sheet from your pattern to the edge of the TV tray, so step by step instructions may be followed without getting up from the sewing machine!

STELLA GETZEN.

Probe Continued In Candidate's Mysterious Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Authorities continued their investigation of the mysterious death of Buford Conley, an independent candidate for City Council in today's election.

Conley, 35, was found dead late Monday in his car in the garage of his home in the Avondale section.

Police said the car's ignition was turned on, but the motor apparently stalled. The gas tank was half full. The garage was closed but not locked.

The coroner's office said an autopsy probably would be made. No ruling on the death has been issued, but it is believed due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Conley, an official of the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, was one of four Negroes among the 28 candidates seeking election. No Negroes have been on Council since 1959.

State Eyes Trial Of Indicted Man In Murder Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — The state hopes to bring John Vanatta, 36, to trial on a first-degree murder charge next month for the bludgeon slaying of wealthy jeweler Richard Richards.

Vanatta, a former partner of Richards in a motel operation, was indicted by the Cuyahoga County grand jury Monday after it had heard seven witnesses.

Less than an hour later, Common Pleas Court Judge William J. McDermott revoked the $100,000 bond against Vanatta and ordered him held without bond. Attorneys for Vanatta had sought at a hearing to have the bond reduced.

Judge McDermott said he would schedule a murder trial within 30 days of Vanatta's arraignment, which is expected later in the week.

Richards was killed Oct. 5 and his body found stuffed in the trunk of his rented car in suburban Berea two days later.

Navy Coach Declares Staubach 'Greatest'

NEW YORK (AP) — After Navy beat Notre Dame in football Saturday at South Bend 35-14, Navy Coach Wayne Hardin called his quarterback Roger Staubach "the greatest player who ever has played the game."

In a story Monday, The Associated Press erroneously attributed the quote to Hugh Devore, the Notre Dame coach.

Rentals Given Board's Okay

Three rentals were approved Monday night by the Board of Education.

The Lincoln PTA was authorized to use the school gymnasium Nov. 13, 20 and 27 and Dec. 4 and 11 for ballroom dancing classes for custodial fees only.

It also was given permission to use the East Junior High gymnasium on Dec. 14 for a party for members of the dancing class. The charge also will be only for custodial fees.

The Kiwanis Club was authorized to use the cafeteria at Westgate School for its annual pancake supper Dec. 7 at the usual rental fee of 18.

Reporting on the water problem at the Glenmoor school, Supt. Paul H. Blair said school officials have received "wonderful cooperation" from the Glenmoor volunteer fire department which has been hauling water to take care of the restrooms.

The well is providing an adequate amount of drinking water, Blair said.

The water supply and school have been inspected and approved by the county sanitarian, the superintendent reported.

To conserve water, the noon recess has been cut to 30 minutes and children have been bringing their lunch so that classes can be dismissed earlier, he explained.

The water problem arose several weeks ago when the well virtually went dry because of the severe drought. Half - day sessions were held on two days.

Blair said suggestions have been received that a tank be installed outside the building with a removal hose so the fire department would not have to make so many trips.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My husband wears starched uniforms to work. I have to wash and iron six each week. . . .

Please tell me what I can do about the mud, rain and soil stains on the legs of his trousers. When it rains, these stains sometimes go as high as the knee when he gets in and out of his truck.

WIFE.

DEAR WIFE: Try using plain, old boiled starch.

After taking the garment from the washing machine and while the garment is still thoroughly wet . . . dip the pants into warm boiled starch up to the knee (you can go further if you want to), then proceed as usual.

When these mud and dirt stains get on the trousers thereafter they will stick to the starch and not work themselves into the fibers of the fabric.

Next time you wash the trousers . . . when you wash the starch out the dirt will also leave. The starch acts as an absorbent.

HELOISE.

Dear Heloise: Here's a helpful hint that I think cat owners will love, especially if they keep a sand box.

Instead of using a cardboard box filled with sand, buy a plastic dishpan. It works much better. The bottom will not fall out when you empty and refill it. It's cleaner, can be washed and re-used. Also, it looks much nicer in your home, and it's far more sanitary.

MRS. LYNN LACKEY.

NOTICE: Ladies, I would like to caution you not to use cleaning fluids on upholstery fabrics if you have foam rubber cushions. Sometimes it deteriorates the rubber inside the cushions. We have had many complaints on this.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you are afraid of duplicating gifts to a new baby . . . Why not present it with a bankbook made out in its own name?

MRS. WILLIAM SPLINTER.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who send little children to school with peanut butter sandwiches:

Try keeping a loaf of bread in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Remove the few slices you need each morning and spread the peanut butter on the frozen bread.

The bread never tears, never squashes, and the peanut butter spreads easily. But the time the kids get ready to eat lunch the sandwiches look as if they were professionally made.

MOTHER OF 10 KIDS.

-:-

Bless you, Mommy! And all 10 siblings. Frozen bread is fantabulous for this. Try it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Snap clothespins are very good to give school children to carry in their coat pockets so they can fasten their mittens, rubber over shoes, etc., together.

There is room on the clothespin to write the name of your child, the teacher and the room number for easy identification in case they are lost. I use large wooden spring - type clothespins for this.

If a pair of gloves is lost . . . they can easily be identified and returned to their proper owner.

MRS. H. EATON

DEAR HELOISE: A TV tray (on legs) is a great help when placed near the sewing machine to keep your scissors, extra bobbins, thread and material nearby.

Tape the instruction sheet from your pattern to the edge of the TV tray, so step by step instructions may be followed without getting up from the sewing machine!

STELLA GETZEN.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Probe Continued In Candidate's Mysterious Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Authorities continued their investigation of the mysterious death of Buford Conley, an independent candidate for City Council in today's election.

Conley, 35, was found dead late Monday in his car in the garage of his home in the Avondale section.

Police said the car's ignition was turned on, but the motor apparently stalled. The gas tank was half full. The garage was closed but not locked.

The coroner's office said an autopsy probably would be made. No ruling on the death has been issued, but it is believed due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Conley, an official of the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, was one of four Negroes among the 28 candidates seeking election. No Negroes have been on Council since 1959.

It's Howell Ave.

EAST PALESTINE — In a brief session Monday night, Council authorized the change of Howell Rd. to Howell Ave. for mailing purposes.

State Eyes Trial Of Indicted Man In Murder Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — The state hopes to bring John Vanatta, 36, to trial on a first-degree murder charge next month for the bludgeon slaying of wealthy jeweler Richard Richards.

Vanatta, a former partner of Richards in a motel operation, was indicted by the Cuyahoga County grand jury Monday after it had heard seven witnesses.

Less than an hour later, Common Pleas Court Judge William J. McDermott revoked the $100,000 bond against Vanatta and ordered him held without bond. Attorneys for Vanatta had sought at a hearing to have the bond reduced.

Judge McDermott said he would schedule a murder trial within 30 days of Vanatta's arraignment, which is expected later in the week.

Richards was killed Oct. 5 and his body found stuffed in the trunk of his rented car in suburban Berea two days later.

Celtics Once Offered $200,000 For Lucas

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics once offered $200,000 for All-America Jerry Lucas, Cincinnati Royals' rookie, it was learned today.

Owner Walter Brown of the six-time world champions told of his offer for the National Basketball Association's prize newcomer.

"I was dead serious," Brown said. "We lost Bob Cousy and we needed a man. This was before we could get Willie Naulls. So I stepped in with the offer."

Brown said the deal fell through because of several rapid - fire changes in Cincinnati ownership at the time.

Navy Coach Declares Staubach 'Greatest'

NEW YORK (AP) — After Navy beat Notre Dame in football Saturday at South Bend 35-14, Navy Coach Wayne Hardin called his quarterback Roger Staubach "the greatest player who ever has played the game."

"If he doesn't win the Heisman Trophy this year," the game is crooked," Hardin said.

In a story Monday, The Associated Press erroneously attributed the quote to Hugh Devore, the Notre Dame coach.

Montreal Center Leads Scoring Parade In NHL

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Jean Beliveau, centering the highest-scoring line in the National Hockey League, has assisted on 15 goals and scored five for 20 points and the lead in the individual scoring race.

Beliveau collected eight points in three games last week, taking over the lead from Chicago's Stan Mikita. Mikita has 15 points, one more than New York's Phil Goyette, according to league statistics released today.

The two other members of Beliveau's line—Boom Boom Geoffrion and rookie John Ferguson —also are in the top 10. Geoffrion is tied for fourth with 13 points while Ferguson is eighth with 11 points.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN Loving Memory of my beloved Mother, Julia Kertesz, who passed away 5 years ago today.
Sleep on, dear good mother, it has been 5 years.
Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears:
Your's was a heart that was blithesome and gay.
Scattering sunshine all along the way;
You know how we loved you, and yes, love you yet,
Though God took you from us, we can't forget.
What would I not give to clasp your hand, your dear, sweet face
To hear your voice, to see your smile, That meant so much to me.
You left behind an aching heart
That loved you most sincere, I never did, nor never will, Forget you Mother dear.
Sadly missed by her daughter, Eleanor Logan, and all who loved her.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN Loving Memory of my beloved Mother, Julia Kertesz, who passed away 5 years ago today.
Sleep on, dear good mother, it has been 5 years.
Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears:
Your's was a heart that was blithesome and gay.
Scattering sunshine all along the way;
You know how we loved you, and yes, love you yet,
Though God took you from us, we can't forget.
What would I not give to clasp your hand, your dear, sweet face
To hear your voice, to see your smile, That meant so much to me.
You left behind an aching heart
That loved you most sincere, I never did, nor never will, Forget you Mother dear.
Sadly missed by her daughter, Eleanor Logan, and all who loved her.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

I will always remember the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown me by my friends and neighbors at the time of my sad loss, the death of my beloved husband, Harry H. Hanley. Special thanks to the Rev. Miller for his consoling words, to the florists and to the Dawson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Alma Hanley

WE wish to express our heartfelt appreciation and sincere thanks for the many kindnesses extended to us during the recent loss of our father and grandfather, Charles Alford. Special thanks to Rev. Donals Rettger and the Arner Funeral Chapel.

Junior Editors Quiz on YAWNS

QUESTION: What really is a yawn?

ANSWER: Please don't fall asleep while we're explaining what a yawn is, as all the people in our picture seem to be doing. Although we don't really catch yawns as we might catch some illness, they certainly seem to pass from person to person. This is called suggestion; if we see another doing something, we often want to do it, too.

Scientists do not know the whole story about yawning; for example, they are not certain which section of the nervous system controls it. They tell us that it is an "involuntary reflex," that is, something you do without consciously meaning to. Once started, it's difficult to stop. You can close your mouth but the contraction of muscles goes on. The purpose of yawning is said to be to get more air into the lungs. It seems to be a warning signal that you need sleep, and also a safety measure to keep you awake until you can get the sleep you need. It is also thought that the stretching of muscles tends to awaken a person and make his blood circulate better. People cover their yawns with their hands because they know they don't look pretty when yawning.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Experiment a bit with yawning. Start a yawn, then see if you can stop it once started. Try a yawn when other folks are around and see if they start yawning, too.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 5, the 309th day of 1963. There are 56 days left in the year. Today is election day.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1872, Susan B. Anthony voted for Ulysses S. Grant in the presidential election at Rochester, N.Y. She was subsequently convicted of illegal voting and fined $100.

On this date:

In 1757, the Prussians defeated the French and Austrians in the Battle of Rossbach and Frederick the Great became Germany's national hero.

In 1916, President Woodrow Wilson and the Mikado of Japan exchanged radiograms at the opening of the transpacific circuit.

In 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected to a third term, breaking the established precedent.

In 1944, American B-29 bombers attacked Singapore in the longest daylight military mission ever flown up to that time.

Ten years ago — Pro-Italian demonstrations broke out again in the Trieste free territory's zone. Police killed two and wounded 15.

Five years ago — Pope John XXIII promised to dedicate his pontificate and to consecrate all his forces to what he called "a just and brotherly peace among nations."

One year ago—The Bulgarian Communisty party announced the expulsion of Premier Anton Yugov and six other high-ranking government officials from the party's central committee.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove acid stains from fabrics?

A. Dampen the spots, and then cover with salts of wormwood. Let this remain for a few minutes, then rub the stains with a dry cloth.
